MAYOR'S ADDRESS

QUINCY, MASS.

January 2, 1906

JAMES THOMPSON

Mayor's Inaugural Address.

Gentlemen of the Council:

Intrusted by the people with the transaction of the business affairs of the city for the ensuing year, it becomes us to give to the same the best consideration and effort of which we are capable, that we may conduct along safe and conservative lines its highest and best interests, thereby obtaining in full measure the greatest results compatible with our resources.

We are a growing community with ever-expanding needs, many of which from a progressive view are deemed absolutely essential. This none can deny; but the means whereby we may meet these wants are limited under the laws governing the taxation that we may levy upon ourselves and the amount of indebtedness in which we may be involved. Therefore, the financial question is vital, as a wise discrimination by the Council is necessary in selecting the public work which shall be undertaken.

A reference to our financial condition, as shown by the treasurer's report, is proper at this time and will, if heeded, guide us in solving the amount of money we may appropriate for the ensuing year, if it is to be borrowed.

The limit of taxation we may raise for current expenses is fixed by the statute at $12 per M of valuation of the city as determined by one of two ways: (1) the average of the three preceding years, valuations less all abatements; (2) on the valuation of the preceding year less all abatements. The latter method is the one that has prevailed for some time in this city, but this has developed a very much less sum than required to meet fixed charges as created by ordinances and the current demands of the various city departments, so, in addition, all the receipts of the city that possibly can be taken are appropriated to meet current demands alone, leaving no margin whatever to expend in any permanent work, and it is only by recourse to the city's credit that means are obtained to meet our ever-pressing wants.

An examination of the treasurer's statement will show the expenditures for 1905, amounting to the large sum of one hundred fifty-seven thousand dollars ($157,000.00) made within the municipal debt limit for the following purpose, viz:

Sewer House connections	$6,000 00

We cannot compare with such expenditures this year for we begin it with a margin of only one hundred ten thousand one hundred seventy-four and eighty-five one hundredths dollars ($110,174 85) on the debt limit, with the sum of seventeen thousand and fifty dollars ($17,050.00) appropriated against it by last year's Council, under Order 374, the bonds of which are dated January, 1906.

The Hancock street bridge at Atlantic nearing completion, and the adjustment soon to be decreed as to who shall pay the cost of the Fore River bridge anticipated to have been paid in 1905, will take a large part of the remainder above named. Therefore, we must go slowly.

I estimate the revenue on the $12. rate per M that we may raise this year to be three hundred one thousand three hundred eighty-seven and thirty-three one hundredths dollars ($301,387.33) with no increase in receipts to appropriate for department expenses.

By ordinances making an increase in the permanent men in the fire department, and the change in the cost of management of the Woodward Fund to direct taxation, together with the mandatory law to provide means for the extermination of the gypsy and brown tail moths, nearly all the increase gained by new valuation last year is absorbed. Therefore, the appropriation for the several departments cannot be increased over that of 1905.

We have borrowed during the past year for temporary purposes, in anticipation of the taxes, about ten per cent. less than the order passed in Council authorized.

As long as appropriations must be passed to provide money to meet current expenses to be paid by taxes to be raised, we can only hope to keep our interest charges for temporary loans at the lowest level consistent with the shortest possible time to collect them.

During the year the collector has pressed the payment of unpaid polls and personal taxes, and the showing made is an improvement on previous years.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT AFFAIRS.

A new method of assessment in the Metropolitan Water District (except in Boston) created by chapter 426 Acts 1904, takes effect this year, the same being levied on the basis of two-thirds on consumption and one-third on valuation.

It is estimated by the Commission, on the per capita consumption of water in this city, that our water charges will be about $7,000 more than last year, making our assessment about $43,000 for 1906 or twenty per cent. more than last year. The per capita consumption in this city in November last was 113 gallons. With the exception of Boston, whose per capita consumption in the same month was 144 gallons, we are the highest in the Metropolitan district. According to tables carefully prepared by the engineer of the Distributive Department, the daily average in this city for November, 1903 was 2,252,400 gallons; while in November, 1905 it was 3,171,300 gallons—an increase of 918,000 gallons per day or forty per cent. In the opinion of the Commission our large consumption is due either to leakages in our pipes or a reckless waste by the consumers. In comparison with other cities in the district of about our population and character, our consumption is excessive and requires prompt measures on our part to locate the cause and apply the remedy.

The South Metropolitan high level gravity sewer has been completed to that stage as authorized by the legislature, and the maximum charge upon the city, for the present, was reached last year.

The Commission expects this year to effect a saving by the abandonment of a pumping station in the Roxbury district thereby lessening somewhat our assessment from that of last year. If no new authorization of extension is made by the legislature, we may hope for a gradual reduction, yearly, in the interest charges by the payments into the sinking fund.

The Metropolitan Park Commission informs me that the Furnace Brook Parkway has been finished to sub-grade between Blue Hills Reservation and Adams street. A concrete rockfaced bridge, to carry the Granite Branch of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad over the parkway in West Quincy, is nearly completed. Plans for the bridge of the main line at Newport Avenue are in preparation. It is expected that surfacing of the sub-graded portion will begin next spring and be completed in the early fall. A road is being built in the Blue Hills connecting the end of the parkway with the central roadway through the Reservation. It crosses Saw Cut Notch Road on the way and thus will provide an interesting circuit drive in the Quincy section of the Blue Hills. Work on the Quincy Shore will continue so far as practical during the winter and will go on next summer as far as circumstances will allow. Plans for the bridge over Sachem Brook have been approved by the proper authorities and this will also be a part of next year's work. In the absence of unforeseen difficulties, it is intended that the work on Quincy Shore shall continue without interruption until completed.

WATER DEPARTMENT.

The money appropriated to extend the water mains has been expended in connecting the high pressure tower on Third Hill by a sixteen-inch main through Brook street under tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad and Woodbine street to Hancock street, giving us a double line of supply connecting with the main of the Metropolitan system from Adams street, thereby adding to the efficiency of the water supply as well as permitting the overhauling and much-needed repairing of the shutoffs at Water and Penn Streets which have been in continuous service since put in by the Quincy Water Company, and heretofore being our main and only line connecting with the Metropolitan supply at Adams street.

A main beginning at Sea street and thence to the end of the Causeway at Nut Island, to give a water supply to the United States government at Fort Andrew on Peddock's Island has been laid, the same being paid for by the government, giving to us the hydrant service without cost and the opportunity along the line to give the necessary local services. The revenue we are to receive from this source for the use of our pipes, as decided by the Attorney-General, is to be one-half that charged by the Metropolitan Water Board to the Government.

The other extensions have been in streets not previously connected, and laid to meet the growing sections now being developed. Water is a necessity, and the extension of the system has tended to place it on the present financial basis. All reasonable petitions for the extension of the system should be granted, and I recommend for the ensuing year that we make the annual appropriation.

The estimate of the income for the past year has been collected and paid into the treasury.

Last year I asked the Council to investigate the question of the introduction of a system of meters. In view of the new Metropolitan water assessments, and the statement of the Commission showing great waste in our per capita consumption in comparison with other cities of like character in the district, I believe it becomes imperative for us to install meters on all services as soon as possible. Furthermore, it appears to me fair that, as the price which the city has to pay for its supply is so largely determined now by the measured quantity it uses, the only equitable basis of payment by the citizens is the actual quantity used by them; and I ask your careful consideration of the subject.

SEWER DEPARTMENT.

The sewer system has been extended mainly in ward two because of the need of sewage disposal in the yard of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company and territory adjacent thereto. This has involved some very deep cutting; thence across the marsh, laid on a concrete bottom, with considerable rock excavation. The cost being in excess of the estimates, a further sum of money will have to be appropriated to carry the work to the point contemplated.

Short extensions of the sewer have been made in various other streets.

Undoubtedly, petitions will be received during the year to connect with the sewer. From a sanitary condition and for the best public interests, I recommend that we appropriate a sufficient amount for extensions.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

During the past year we have endeavored to give the greatest possible return for the money expended, and equitably divide in the several sections the general appropriation for the care and maintenance of streets.

We now have seventy-seven miles of accepted streets, and only by constant attention may we hope to maintain them even at the present standard. Correct grade and surface drainage are important factors in the maintenance of good streets, also a road metal of the right kind, if we are to have economy. Our crushing plant should be entirely renewed and located where the best material of trap-rock character exists. I believe there are places in the city where such material can be obtained cheaper and, with a modern plant, handled more expeditiously, thereby enabling us to deliver on the streets at a minimum cost.

The most important work of the year has been on Hancock street at the Atlantic bridge, with the approaches thereto and its intersecting streets. We all know the question with its objectionable features that confronted us a year ago, and the apparent deadlock of affairs. By an amicable arrangement with the officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co. and the Old Colony Street Railway Co. we were enabled to re-open the decree of the County Commissioners and the Special Commission, who apportioned the cost of the work, and bring about a solution eminently satisfactory and advantageous to all interested parties, the cost of the work to be paid for as first apportioned, viz.; sixty per cent. by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, fifteen per cent. by the Old Colony Street Railway Company and twenty-five per cent by the city of Quincy.

With the bridge and street built to full width, the grade on the south side of the bridge reduced and the land adjacent made available for development, we have every reason to credit ourselves with a permanent improvement.

This completion has also made possible the granting of double-track locations to the street railway making a complete double-track from City Square to Neponset river. The street railway, in conjunction with the Boston Elevated, has put in operation the long promised through-service to Dudley street station of the Elevated, and with the advent of spring it is hoped that more frequent service will be put in operation to accommodate the traveling public.

The acceptance and laying out of Maple Street, and widening of Cottage Avenue, both very important and expensive matters, have been ordered.

A large number of new streets have been accepted and laid out in order to meet petitions of long standing. In the acceptance of new streets, which in fairness to all the tax payers should be well considered, a closer adherence to the ordinance concerning the acceptance of new streets should be observed.

My opinion is the same as stated last year, i. e., all heavy traffic streets should be paved as soon as can be; and while it is possible to do but a small part each year, I believe it wise to continue this class of work.

The question of street lighting is of the highest importance; it adds to safety and convenience and is an efficient aid to police protection. Many petitions for the installation of street lights are before us, but with the means at our disposal I do not see how the appropriation for same can be increased and the petitions granted, as this can be met only in the current expenses.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The station at Hough's Neck has not yet been put into commission, but an appropriation has been made for the purchase of a combination chemical, hose, and ladder apparatus, with the necessary horses. There will be also installed a bell striker. As soon as the equipment can be delivered and the striker put in operation, the long-standing complaint of the property owners of this section, of a lack of fire protection, will be removed.

Our fire alarm system is a matter of deep importance and requires attention.

I desire to call to your notice the extreme length of circuit No. 1, which covers Quincy Centre, the Point district and Hough's Neck, and contains about twenty miles of wire. In case of a break or other trouble on this wire or instruments connected therewith, the entire property in the districts covered is without the means of alarm until the trouble can be located and remedied; and this, owing to the length of the circuit, is a slow process. I, therefore, recommend that this circuit be made into two separate and distinct circuits. This will necessitate two additional wires from the engine house to the stone church; also, that we use the ducts in the underground conduit reserved for the use of the fire alarm. Boxes Nos. 35, 23 and 26 on this line should be of the non-interfering type, and each placed on an underground iron post. Each box can then be placed in a separate circuit, avoiding, to a great extent, the danger of a confused alarm owing to two alarms being pulled about the same time.

The valuable property interests in this district should be guarded to the fullest extent. The present wire has been in use many years and should be replaced, for it has about reached the limit of its usefulness.

The Hydrant Service, as provided in the ordinance governing same, is under the direction of the chief engineer. With fires in progress, and for fire drill by the men of the department, it should so remain; but aside from this no hydrant should be opened except under the direction or by the authority of the superintendent of the Water Department.

I believe a great waste of water occurs annually by the use of this service, and to reduce it in all possible ways, I recommend that the ordinance be changed to cover this point.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

During the past year the ordinance relating to this department has been changed, creating the rank of lieutenant and two sergeants. These offices have been filled by members for efficiency and seniority in service. I have every reason to believe the work of the department, as a whole, has given satisfaction, if judged by commendatory words, and that during the year we have made some improvement. Nevertheless, the enforcement of law and order is ever constant, and watchful attention must not be permitted to lag. Obedience is imperative; and a strict adherence to the rules and regulations governing the individual conduct of the members is necessary in order to maintain a high standard, and to retain the respect and endorsement of the citizens. Our force is small; therefore, constant activity in patrolling the various beats requires the strict attention and vigilance of every member. With that performed, we may hope for continued improvement.

NO LICENSE.

By the largest majority in the history of the city, our voters have again said that the legalized saloon shall be kept beyond our borders. I believe that the no-license policy of Quincy for nearly a quarter of a century has been a most potent factor in its rapid development and growth in all desirable ways. There are rumors that intoxicating liquors are illegally sold in some sections of the city. While the work of securing evidence against violators of this law, and bringing them to justice, rests primarily with the police, it is nevertheless the duty of every citizen, who is interested in good municipal government, to assist the administration in all possible ways in the enforcement of this and other criminal laws. It not infrequently happens that private individuals have information concerning infractions of the liquor laws which the most vigilant police might not be able to secure. In such cases the evidence should be immediately placed in my hands and I will take prompt action thereon for the best interest of our city. My reference to a citizen's duty in this important matter in no manner excuses our police from discharging all the obligations of their offices, and I shall hold them strictly accountable for the most rigid enforcement of the laws regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors.

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

Our parks and playgrounds maintain their ever-increasing popularity. During the past two years the department has commenced tree planting with partial success. This practice should be continued yearly as requirements demand to repair the losses occasioned by storm, fire and decay.

The opportunities for recreation, as provided by these grounds, are growing constantly in favor and will continue to increase in the future. The natural beauties of our parks appeal to the artistic sense of all lovers of the beautiful in nature, and we should strive to preserve them intact. This I fully believe to be the sentiment of our Park Board.

The incoming of the gypsy and brown-tail moths,—a pest and scourge of the most destructive character to foliage and which, if permitted to obtain a foothold, is bound to kill the trees and lay barren our parks and streets,—imposes upon us the duty as well as the requirement of the law, to use to the fullest all means for their suppression.

In compliance with the law, the Council passed the minimum appropriation, as required under Chapter 381, Acts 1905. We have had repeated visits from the superintendent for the suppression of the moths and expert employees from his department to locate the infested districts in the city and to instruct our men as to finding and treating the pests. As required by law, notices have been sent to all property owners, resident and non-resident, in regard to their responsibility in the care of trees on their property, for it is only through the combined efforts of the city and property owners that we may hope to cope with the trouble.

The amount required to be appropriated by the city the current year will appear in the estimates.

As much as I dislike to recommend the creation of a new office involving a further fixed charge in our annual current expense, I feel it my duty, in view of this pest menacing our trees and the constant stringing and increase of wires in our streets, to recommend that the office of City Forester be established that the public grounds and trees on our streets may be under practical and scientific supervision. And I ask your careful consideration of this matter.

SCHOOLS.

Our school population continues its steady growth, and the accusation of race suicide in no wise applies to Quincy.

The problems that have confronted our predecessors are the same today. The provision of sufficient money to meet the requirements of our schools figures prominently in our appropriations and keeps us constantly straining to reach the goal. In order to keep pace with the increase in pupils, additional buildings with their furnishings, more teachers, text books and all the accessories of the equipment of the modern school are required.

The addition to the High School, a long pending matter taxing the efforts of the school committee and Council, we hoped was settled by the adoption of the plans of A. H. Gould, and the appropriation of $113,000.00, which sum, as represented by approximate estimates given, was believed to be sufficient to complete the building. Proposals were invited to construct the same according to said plans and specifications, but all bids are found to exceed the appropriation. To carry the plans into effect, an additional sum is required, and I will ask that the same be appropriated so that the contracts may be placed and the work proceeded with.

An appropriation of $3,200.00, to purchase additional land on Saville avenue, has been made for the use of the Coddington School.

Pending in Council are communications from the School Board for new buildings to replace the present Coddington school, and one at Atlantic; also in regard to the over-crowded condition of the Lincoln school. All these are very weighty matters, and to solve them will demand your careful consideration when sufficient money becomes available in the debt limit.

It is to be hoped future approval of plans by the School Committee may be such that the choice of selection will be placed upon the Council who is responsible for the city's indebtedness.

Gentlemen, in conclusion, the labors which devolve upon us jointly I feel assured can by cooperation and earnest effort be solved as far as the means of the city will permit.

Granting to you all the authority conferred under the Charter, believing the same will be conceded in return, I have every reason to feel that our relations will be mutually agreeable and materially advance the best interests of the city.

Permit me to tender to you the greetings of the season with many happy returns.

The following is a brief review of the work performed during the year:

BRIDGES, CULVERTS AND DRAINS.

Considerable work has been done on the various bridges during the past year.

Repairs on the Fore River Bridge consisted of putting in fifty-five new planks, new gear and dolphin.

This bridge has been subjected to such severe wear that in my judgment extensive repairs will be necessary the coming year to put this bridge in safe condition for public travel.

The city's portion of assessment levied and paid for repairs on this bridge amounted to $400.

Bates Avenue bridge was replanked, also slight repairs were made on the bridges on Rock Island, Bryant Avenue, Merrymount Road and Furnace Avenue.

The brooks and water ways throughout the city have all received careful attention and have been thoroughly cleaned at a cost of about $400.

Drains and catch basins were all looked after and cleaned out after each storm.

New catch basins and drains were put in on Brook, Taylor, Beale, Dimmock, Edwin and Centre Streets.

REMOVAL OF SNOW.

The past year was an unusually severe winter, having had a great many snow storms and considerable ice on sidewalks to contend with.

I endeavored to give pedestrians all the comfort possible and attended to it personally that all sidewalks were immediately ploughed out after each storm and also made a special effort to keep all sidewalks properly sanded. The gutters also received their share of attention and were always ploughed out. The territory to be ploughed is growing larger each year until now we have practically a distance of one hundred and twenty-seven miles to cover with thirty-five ploughs.

STREET LIGHTING.

The street lighting service during the past year has been very satisfactory.

Numerous petitions have been sent to the Council asking for additional lights in various sections of the city, and I would suggest that when the present contract with the Quincy Electric Light & Power Co. expires July 1, 1906, that such arrangements be made whereby these lights could be installed without increasing the appropriation.

We have installed at the present time 166 arc, 593 incandescent and 16 gas lamps, an increase of 2 arc and 14 incandescent lamps.

REPAIR OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS AND CARE OF CITY HALL.

This appropriation covered repairs on all public buildings, including 13 School Houses, 6 Engine Houses, City Stables, Police Station, Almshouse, Pest House and care of City Hall, divided as follows:

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Adams	$53.03
Coddington	134.49
Cranch	92.68
Gridley Bryant	116.96
High	116.92
John Hancock	165.49

		$6,499.73

In addition to the above expenditures the Council passed a special appropriation of $2,750 for installing a system of water closets in the Adams School building and connecting same with the sewer. Proposals were advertised and contract awarded to J. E. Keniley & Co. for $1,545, they being the lowest bidders. Work was immediately commenced and consisted of installing 13 closets in the girl's basement, 9 closets in the boy's basement and 2 new soap stone sinks.

An additional closet for the teachers and one for the principal were installed outside of original contract. A new 1 1/2 inch water service was put in, also new concrete floors in toilet rooms.

The above work necessitated considerable carpenter and painting work and was done in a creditable manner and proves a great improvement over the old sanitarries.

STREET WATERING.

The watering of streets has been carried on this year in the usual manner and the work done by the electric car sprinkler and five carts on streets ordered by the Council.

Several new streets were ordered watered in the Ward 2 district.

Assessment was levied on 161,431 linear feet at $0.023 per linear foot. One-half cost of same was assessed on abutting property owners.

There are so many applications for the extension of street watering from all sections of the city that it will be necessary to increase the appropriation to cover the expense of another cart if additional streets are watered, as my teams would not warrant satisfactory results if their routes were extended to any considerable length.

EDGESTONES.

Edgestones were set and gravel sidewalks constructed upon application from abutters agreeing to pay one-half the cost of same in front of the following property:

Lora C. Merrill, North Central Ave. and Safford Street.

Sidney F. Copeland and Charles S. Adams, Brook Street.

Jennie G. Small, Billings Street.

Francis P. Loud, Fort Street.

Swedish Church, Fort Street.

Charles J. Norling, Fort Street.

Merchants' National Bank, St. Johnsbury, Vt., Edwin Street.

Daniel W. Baxter, Franklin Street.

Cordelia M. Clark, Upland Road.

Thomas Crane Public Library, Spear Street.

The above work consisted in furnishing and setting 795.5 ft. straight and 12.5 ft. curved edgestones and building 506 sq. yds. gravel sidewalk.

HIGHWAYS.

The care of our streets requires a large part of my time and attention and the same problems arise each year as to the best methods to be pursued and what streets are to be put in repair and with the small appropriation that is at my disposal for Miscellaneous Highways it is almost impossible to satisfy all demands. As our streets are continually subjected to severe wear by heavily loaded teams it is impossible to have all our streets maintained in first class condition, still I feel that the work in this department has progressed in a very satisfactory manner and good results have been obtained.

General repairs were made on almost all of our streets, sidewalks resurfaced, gutters and basins cleaned, cross walks relaid, gutters paved, street signs erected and special attention given to the trimming of trees.

I endeavored to distribute this work and give each section of the city some share of improvement.

It would be almost impossible to mention all work that has been accomplished, still the most extensive repairs were made on Brook, Brackett, Field, Deldorf, Cranch, Whitwell, Intervale, Quincy, Willard, Miller and Penn Streets, Brook Road, Furnace Avenue and South Walnut Street.

Independence Avenue from Franklin Street to Federal Avenue, and Franklin Street from Water Street to Independence Avenue and City Square west of the Fountain were all macadamized and put in first class condition.

The utilizing and putting in proper condition the unused lot of land located on East Howard Street belonging to the city, and known as the "School House lot," for recreative purposes, is a most pleasing improvement and is greatly appreciated by the people living in that vicinity.

The Street Railway Excise Tax was expended to the best advantage in repairing streets upon which car tracks are located.

Fifty-one permits were issued for street openings, moving buildings, parades, etc.

New street signs were erected and many old ones repaired.

Owing to the dilapidated condition of the Stone Crusher plant and the scarcity of stone at the Keenan quarry, I deemed it unadvisable to make such extensive repairs as was necessary to put the crusher in working order. I was accordingly handicapped for good road material and for a substitute I located the portable crusher on Willard Street and thence to the gravel pit in Wollaston, from which places I was able to secure good road material.

I would suggest that an appropriation be made to install a new stone crushing plant and also that land containing good road material be purchased, as I believe it would be economy for the city to own its own quarry, as the land at some future date could be utilized advantageously for city purposes.

The following streets were accepted by the Council and laid out as public ways of the city.

Name	From	To	ft. long	ft. wide
Sagamore Street	Old Colony St	Hancock St	494	40
Upland Road	Dimmock St	Adams St	1317	40

North Payne Street	Payne St	Franklin St	733	33
Dixwell Avenue	Whalley Road	752 ft. southerly	752	40
Cottage Avenue	Chestnut St	Hancock St	503	35

making a total of 77.3 miles of public ways of the city.

CITY SCALES.

The erection of the City Scales on the south side of Granite Street on property of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., consisted of one extra heavy iron frame Railroad Pattern Scale—Standard—25 tons, with a wooden platform 20 ft. by 8 ft. set on stone foundation.

The scales were furnished by Tenney, Morse & Co. of Boston for $300, and the labor, stone foundation and lumber for the Wagon Scale $235.

The approaches to and from the scales were paved with granite blocks and a stone retaining wall built in the rear.

Arrangements should be made to provide some means for weighing.

HIGH SCHOOL ADDITION AND ALTERATIONS.

The Council passed an order June 19, 1905, authorizing me to procure suitable plans for the enlargement of the High School, subject to the approval of the School Committee and the State Board of Police.

Competitive plans were immediately called for and five complete sets of plans and specifications were received from competent architects which were submitted to the School Committee.

The plan of Aaron H. Gould, architect, was accepted and approved and the Council accordingly appropriated the sum of $113,000.

Bids were advertised and submitted and found to be in excess of appropriation, therefore it was necessary to procure an additional sum of $6,500 to complete building in conformity with said plan.

Contract was awarded to Rufus E. Lord of Waltham and work on foundation will commence at once and building completed before the opening of the fall term next year.

The plans call for an addition and remodelling of the present building which will accommodate about one thousand pupils which we trust will meet all demands in this direction for a number of years to come.

GYPSY AND BROWN TAIL MOTHS.

The extermination of the gypsy and brown tail moths consisted principally in caring for our trees on streets and sidewalks.

Men were put to work destroying the eggs of the gypsy moth by applying creosote and the nests of the brown tail moths were cut from the trees and destroyed by burning same.

Printed circulars containing full instructions as to suppression of gypsy and brown tail moths were sent to all property owners asking them to co-operate with the city in its work on highways and other public grounds by destroying in time such eggs, pupae, and nests as they found on their property before January 1, 1906.

The most serious feature of the local situation is the general and often severe infestation of private estates by the gypsy moth. On these places a great many egg clusters have been broken and scattered and it is probable that considerable injury to trees will be evident during the caterpillar season of next year. The street trees of the entire city should be burlapped and spraying may be necessary in certain seriously infested localities.

Plans are perfected for a vigorous campaign against the brown tail moths and during the winter months we hope to make considerable progress in the suppression of these moths.

The city is generally infested with the gypsy moth and several colonies have reached a point where injury to the trees will take place next year unless thorough measures are applied and the State has therefore recommended that a further appropriation be made to enable us to proceed with this work.

Upland Road was laid out and accepted from Dimmock Street to Adams Street under a special appropriation of $800. Work was immediately commenced and street constructed to the established grade.

Centre Street between Intervale Street and Albertina Street was greatly improved by raising the grade and constructing a pipe drain with necessary catch basins. The draining of this street was a much needed improvement and relieves the street of all surface water. An appropriation of $1,000 was made for this work.

Farnum Street was laid out, accepted and built to the established grade under a special appropriation of $300.

An appropriation of $400 was made for widening that portion of Granite Street near its junction with Hancock Street. This work consisted in relaying the curbing and brick sidewalk and was done in consideration of the property owner, Mr. Henry H. Faxon, releasing to the city a parcel of land containing 170 square feet.

Glendale Road from Whitwell Street to Dimmock Street was laid out, accepted and built to the established grade under a special appropriation of $600. Paved gutters were also laid.

An appropriation of $5,000 was made for changing grade on Hancock Street from the Church of the Sacred Heart to Madison Street.

Considerable filling was necessary in order to bring street to established grade. The street was widened on both sides, culverts rebuilt and paving relaid.

The Old Colony Street Railway Co. laid new double tracks and also did the required paving between the tracks.

The widening and regrading of this street, together with the completion of the bridge over the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad is a great improvement.

Eight hundred dollars were appropriated and expended for construction of a pipe drain and catch basins on Taylor Street from Elmwood Avenue to Sachems Brook.

Edgestones were laid and gravel sidewalks constructed on the north-west side of Beach Street from Billings Road to the Metropolitan Boulevard, a distance of about 640 feet under an appropriation of $800, abutters paying one-half cost of same.

The following orders were passed too late to commence work this year:

Walnut Street Grading	$700.00
Coe Street Grading	200.00

Holmes Street Grading	500.00

SEWER DIVISION.

In accordance with the vote of the Board of Sewerage Commissioners this department was transferred to the Commissioner of Public Works on February 20, 1905. Before the retirement of the Board the assessments for work done during the year 1904 were levied and everything left in good shape for the transfer.

The only exception was the Sheehan Case, but that has been settled during the past year.

Construction work has been carried on mainly in Ward 2, the object being to relieve the Fore River Shipbuilding Company's yard.

For this purpose a line of 18 in. and 15 in. pipe was built from Washington Street through Cleverly Court, Private Land, South Street, East Howard Street and thence into the yard at a point near Winter Street. This job, while not especially difficult, entailed considerable work outside of the actual building of the sewer. The opportunity was taken to rebuild and straighten culverts and drains and the light cut on a part of East Howard Street and South Street involved changes of lines and grades and the construction of catch basins. About five hundred feet of this sewer was laid in embankment in a swampy land between Cleverly Court and South Street. To obtain a bottom for it it was necessary to excavate in places from two to seven feet. Sheathing was driven into this bottom about one foot, left in place and the ditch refilled with gravel. The pipe was laid with asphalt joints and placed on a bed of four inches of concrete, the concrete being brought up at the sides and over the top of the pipe. The whole was covered with gravel and the sides trimmed with peat taken from the ditch. Ledge was encountered on East Howard Street and in the shipyard as far as we have gone.

This sewer is not yet available for the Fore River Ship-building Company and considering the deplorable sanitary condition it is of the utmost necessity that money be appropriated at once for the completion of this work.

Short extensions of lateral sewers were built in different parts of the city on petition.

The following is a list of sewers built during the year showing the location, length, size and number of manholes:

earnestly recommended that a larger appropriation be devoted for this purpose.

In response to the demands of the residents in the vicinity of Butler's Pond that something be done to restore the pond to its former condition, a dam was constructed near the Dorothy Q. House and an 8 in. pipe laid from the brook to the pond. This has resulted in raising the pond about two feet and produced a very satisfactory condition of affairs.

This year the engineering and the making of record plans has been under the supervision of the City Engineer.

We had one serious accident during the year, one man being almost instantly killed and another suffering the loss of one eye by the explosion of a piece of dynamite on Baxter Street.

We have on file several petitions for sewers in various parts of the city which should be granted this year, and an early appropriation for sewer construction should be made.

On January 1, 1905, there was a balance of $8,013.39 remaining to the credit of Sewer Construction.

An appropriation of $25,000 was made during the year for said purpose. From this amount the sum of $8,024.98 has been paid to date on account of the suit of Sheehan vs. City of Quincy. The balance remaining was expended in building the sewer for the Fore River Shipbuilding Company and small laterals as noted in a preceding table.

WATER DIVISION.

In accordance with the plan and agreement of the United States Government a six and eight inch water main was laid through Mears Avenue from Sea Avenue to Nut Island, there connecting with the submarine pipe which supplies Fort Andrews, Peddocks Island. A six inch meter was placed on this service and the assessment for water at this fort will be made according to our regular meter rates.

Arrangements have been made with the Metropolitan Water Board whereby they will collect one-half and the City of Quincy one-half of the assessment.

Owing to the fact that the Metropolitan Water Assessment is to be based two-thirds on the amount consumed and one-third on valuation, it is necessary that the most stringent care should be taken to prevent the waste of water, thereby reducing the consumption.

In order to do this we are going to have meters installed at all quarries, granite yards, manufacturing plants and business blocks.

It is my opinion that a complete meter system should be established in this city as soon as possible in order that we may have the benefit of a low assessment from the Metropolitan Water Board.

To improve the service and give better fire protection at Wellston and Atlantic a 16 inch main was laid through Brook Street from Beale Street to Hancock Street.

The standpipe on Penn's Hill was temporarily repaired and painted both inside and outside.

Repairs were also made on some of the large gates and I would recommend that all the gates which have been in use for many years be thoroughly repaired, as it is a matter of great importance to have these gates in perfect working order at all times.

The total number of feet of street mains laid was 12,171 feet, making a total length of street mains 528,930 feet.

During the year 263 new service connections were made at a total cost of $9,780.05, of which $6,670.84 was charged to the consumers and $3,109.21 charged to the city.

13 meters were set, making a total of 194 in use.

28 hydrants were set and 5 replaced, making total in use 489.

80 gates were set and 13 removed, making total in use 1266.

51 leaks in street main and 19 leaks in service pipes have been repaired.

31 old service pipes were renewed.

The following tables will show miles of pipe, number of hydrants and gates, also location of pipe, hydrants and gates put in during the year.

In conclusion I wish to thank His Honor the Mayor,
the members of the City Council, Clerks, foreman and employees of my department for their advice and assistance so kindly rendered.

Respectfully submitted,

THOS. F. BURKE.

Report of Inspector of Animals

To His Honor, Mayor of Quincy:

Dear Sir:—As Inspector of Animals for the year 1905, I submit the following report:

There were ninety-six (96) stables inspected, containing five hundred and eighty-one (581) cows, two (2) goats, ~~seven~~ (7) sheep, and ninety-nine (99) pigs.

Of these, two cows were reported to the State and by them killed for tuberculosis.

Two horses were likewise killed for glanders. Only one of these developed the disease in Quincy.

Attention should be called to the fact that a person who conceals a case of glanders, or does not report the same, is liable to heavy fine or imprisonment.

Regarding the cattle. A button in a cow's ear shows freedom from tuberculosis, guaranteed by State Inspection. Purchasers would do well to avoid cows that are not so marked.

The greatest menace seems to be the lack of cleanliness in some stables, due to the storing of manure under or against the building. This should be remedied by its daily removal to a distance.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANCIS ABELE, JR.

Report of Park Commissioners

To His Honor, the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

Your Commissioners have to report as follows regarding the conduct of the Parks and Playgrounds during the year 1905:

MERRY MOUNT PARK.

Beyond the general care by one man the whole season and extra help at odd times, the bulk of the work and expenses here has been on tree planting.

The extra appropriation of $200 for trees in 1905 was not enough to do what was necessary, and we were obliged to use part of the general park appropriation for this purpose. About 2,000 young pines and spruce were planted in several different places under the direction of an expert. Owing to the dry season and poor soil about one-third of the trees, mostly pines, died. As the trees were guaranteed, all these will be replaced this season at the expense of the nursery company supplying the trees. With this exception all grew well and promise to make some show this season.

Unfortunately for the community, we seem to have an over supply of miscreants in this city who delight in destroying public property. Numerous fires have been started by them in the grass and bush, one of which this winter burned up a large number of the best trees planted last spring, and another burned the largest outhouse in the park. Altogether the destruction thus caused the past season must amount to hundreds of dollars. A reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties has been offered, thus far without result. There seems no way to stop this vandalism except to keep a police officer patrolling the parks at all times. Believing it would be money well spent, we urgently ask an appropriation this year sufficient to justify the employment of an officer most of the time.

Fences, building, signs and grounds have been kept in as good repair as funds allowed.

The Metropolitan Sewer Board has completed the laying of a main out-fall sewer across the park. The work seems to have been done in a careful manner and as yet has caused no appreciable damage to trees or grounds.

This winter has not been cold enough to warrant flooding the meadows for skating and incidentally taking the chance of flooding the cellar of the house adjoining the meadow.

The baseball and foot ball fields have, as usual, been liberally patronized. Boys attending these games cause considerable destruction to trees and brush.

Any plan to take most of these sports and the attending crowds out of the park will benefit the park. The field to the south of the main entrance between Hancock Street and Black's Creek now used as a pasture, though part of the park, can at moderate cost be made into a particularly good and most accessible athletic field. Perhaps this should be done whenever funds can be spared for the purpose.

Permits for picnics have been refused in all cases the past year. No hardship seems to have been caused thereby and the same policy will be continued.

More tree planting is needed and an appropriation should be made each year for this purpose.

WARD TWO.

The playground is expected to be in good condition for ball games this spring, much improved by the grading in 1905. The trees that for many years have contributed so much to the beauty of Point Holes are fast dying. Tree planting is much needed here this season.

BATH HOUSE.

The Public Bath House was patronized by larger crowds than ever during the hot summer of 1905, about 25,000 bathers using the house. Even with the recent addition, the house is none too large to handle the increasing numbers. More attendants were required on special days and an officer on Sundays, holidays and night tides, causing expenses to be considerably increased. This bath house has been a success from the start and nothing should be neglected to maintain it properly.

WARD THREE.

Little was done here last year outside of general care. The young trees have had a hard time, many being broken by thoughtless or malicious persons. Some filling of the lower ground has been done and more is needed.

WARD FOUR.

This playground has required little other than general care to mow and roll it. Money could be well spent here to fill the swamp land beyond the out field of the ball ground.

WARD SIX.

This playground, much improved by the regrading in 1904, has required only general care the past year. Changing the grade of the streets approaching the new railroad bridge has cut off the end of one of the diagonal paths. Steps to the street from the playground should be built at once.

FAXON PARK.

When this park was given to the city by Mr. H. H. Faxon, two of his conditions were that one road should be built from Quincy Avenue to Franklin Street, and another from the corner of Water Street and Quincy Avenue to the Park up the lane leading to the old farm. It took ten years to build the first road. The latter is still on paper. As the donor has so recently died, it would seem especially appropriate that the city should not delay longer to pay its just debts. The cost should not be great. Such a road would serve largely to bring this most beautiful tract of land into the prominence it deserves.

PESTS.

The few brown-tail and gypsy moth nests that have been found in our parks have been destroyed.

Brown-tail and gypsy moths are considered among the worst pests our trees have to fear. But for genuine destructiveness they are not to be compared with some of our Quincy pests. The Quincy variety does not confine itself to the foliage or to the summer season; it works the year round, chops the trees close to the ground and is far more destructive than any moths. It deserves extermination fully as much and is a public enemy in a greater degree.

Though calling attention to this matter in previous reports, we have never yet been able to catch an offender and probably will not until citizens who have knowledge of the offenders acquire sufficient interest in the public welfare to testify against them.

CITY FORESTER OR TREE WARDEN.

The need of such an officer is greater than ever. Therefore we urge the recommendations in our report of last year be acted upon favorably at an early date.

LIBERTY SQUARE.

This small open ground in Ward 3 has required little care. A few trees must be replaced this spring.

EXPENDITURES.

The total expenses exceeded appropriations largely because the sum granted for tree planting was too small. The deficit has been made up by the Commission.

GEORGE E. PFAFFMANN, Chairman,
DEXTER E. WADSWORTH,
FRED B. RICE, Secretary.

Assessors' Report.

To His Honor, the Mayor, of the City of Quincy:

The Board of Assessors herewith submit their annual report for the year 1905.

Warrants received and amount raised for current expenses by the assessment of taxes in the city of Quincy, for the financial year commencing January 1, 1905, by the Board of Assessors, were as follows:

A State warrant for the proportion of the City of Quincy of a State tax of $4,000,000.00	$28,880.00
A County warrant for the proportion of the City of Quincy of a County tax of $231,000.00	23,261.09
By the provisions of Chapter 488 of the Acts of the year 1895, entitled "An act to provide for a Metropolitan Water Supply," we have been assessed for the year 1905	35,832.50
Of this amount, $8,450.84 is to meet the requirements of the sinking fund established under said chapter; $21,974.10 is to pay interest, and $5,407.56 is on account of the cost of maintenance and operation for the year 1905.
By the provisions of Chapter 406 of the Acts of the year 1895, entitled "An Act to provide for a system of sewage disposal for the Neponset River Valley," and of Chapter 424 of the Acts of the year 1899, entitled "An Act to provide for the construction of a High Level Gravity Sewer for the relief of the Charles and Neponset River Valleys," we have been assessed ..	28,960.81

Of this amount, $2,318.46 is to meet the requirements of the sinking fund established under said chapter; $12,661.08 is to pay interest, and $13,981.27 is on account of the cost of maintenance and operation for the year 1905.

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 407 of the Acts of the year 1893, entitled "An Act to establish a Metropolitan Park Commission," Chapter 550 of the Acts of the year 1896, entitled "An Act relative to the Metropolitan Parks and Boulevards," and Chapter 464 of the Acts of the year 1899, entitled "An Act to authorize the Metropolitan Park Commission to take, control and manage Nantasket Beach and adjacent lands and waters," we have been assessed

Of this amount, $1,822.46 is to meet the requirements of the sinking fund established under said chapter; $4,358.10 is to pay interest, and $3,268.03 is on account of the cost of maintenance and operation for the year 1905.

In pursuance of the provisions of Section 16, Chapter 47, of the Revised Laws, we have been assessed

During the year there has been returned to this office by the Commissioner of Public Works 389 main sewer assessments, apportioned, and 300 particular sewer assessments. With these additions, the total number of individual accounts now kept in this office is, viz:

Main sewer assessments	1,931
Particular sewer assessments	255
Sidewalk assessments	27

Each one being divided into from three to ten parts; one part, with interest on the unpaid balance, being added, annually, to the tax bill of every person affected by these assessments.

The Board fully appreciate the value of the recent surveys of the city. During the year the Board has had the fifth instalment of assessors' plans, covering ward six, prepared in the office of the city engineer. This gives the Board plans for five wards, namely, one, two, three, five and six; and, with the appropriation of $1,000 now before the City Council, it is hoped to complete ward four.

A radical change in the method of transacting the business of this office took place in the year 1900, with the introduction of the card index system. At the present time, every detail of change of property is carefully noted, and easy of reference. These conditions reflect credit upon the clerk and assistants, and we feel justly proud of the system.

With the large amount of sewer detail coming into the office it will be necessary to increase our clerical force if we are to continue our present satisfactory work. Many of our citizens find the office a great convenience with the plans and detail ready at hand, and the Board feels that it should have the proper amount of money to keep up the work.

Report of Inspector of Milk

To His Honor, the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The Inspector of Milk respectfully submits the following report:

During the year 1905-06 there have been no complaints or convictions for the selling of sub-standard milk. The State Inspector has reported no cases for investigation nor found any suspicious cases.

The advantages of a central location with regular office hours are apparent. More dealers have been seen personally and a large amount of useful information has come from these interviews. The amount collected for license fees is $23.50, which is slightly in excess of the collection of other years.

With the idea of increasing the revenue of this department, a list of all owners of cows throughout the city was made and the number owned by such.

This list was compared with the license books and it was found that nearly all were licensed who used wagons. The city ordinance requires that those carrying milk in a wagon should be licensed each year, but those dealing in milk from a store or house, or even delivering from a basket or hand barrow need pay but one fee, that of 50 cents for their license or more properly registration.

During the year 1906-07 a laboratory for the examination of milk will be maintained at City Hall and all samples sent will be examined by the Inspector free of charge and a certificate given if desired.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC J. PEIRCE, M. D.,

Inspector of Milk.

Thomas Crane Public Library.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library submit herewith their annual report, it being the thirty-fifth of the whole series since the establishment of the Library.

The Trustees of the Library have nothing especially new to submit. Nothing has happened to intermit the work of the Library which has gone steadily and quietly on. Changes in such an institution must naturally be of slow growth. That is the way they should be. Its policy is the development of years. There has been an increase in the circulation of something more than two thousand. Fiction has fallen off one per cent.; Juvenile fiction remained the same. Arts and Sciences has increased; General literature shows a slight falling off. So also do History and Religion. Educational books have increased three-tenths of a per cent. The reading of religious books as well as works on education is never more than a fraction of a per cent., a very small fraction, it may be remarked.

During the past year the Trustees have been solicited to add to the Library standard books on naval topics as well as the conventional English and American reviews on that subject. But the result has not been entirely encouraging. Now and then some one will ask for a work on naval engineering, but the inquiry is not frequent. It should be said that most of the books on the subject are extremely expensive and their purchase by the Library is somewhat of an experiment. The policy of the institution from the beginning has been against the supplying of special and valuable books. The Trustees desire the establishment of a general library, not one for the use of occasional scholars. They are confirmed in this policy by the result of experience. It is better to put the funds of the Library into books that are called for and widely read than into those that remain unread on the shelves save by the very few who can, if they desire such technical works, obtain them in the libraries of the near city.

It is, however, to be regretted that the higher orders of fiction show no greater increase, and that the bulk of reading in that direction appears to be devoted to the most ephemeral kind. The percentage of General literature is lamentably small, so also History, Biography, Travels. Some of the best minds of the day are engaged in these directions and the number of the most deeply interesting works is legion. It is difficult to understand their neglect. One can easily comprehend the small amount of religious reading, because the Library does not undertake to supply books of that kind. It would be impossible for reasons that can easily be seen. But education is advancing with such rapid strides that it has become essential for teachers to be specialists in their profession. Yet the demand for books of that kind during the past year has been six-tenths of one per cent. The call for really sound reading is insignificantly small. As to the circulation of books in the schools, by far the larger proportion of books taken for children by teachers has been juvenile fiction, showing a very large increase over the year before, almost double. This is no doubt owing to the fact that the Library has been largely patronized by teachers of the lower grades. Of course the general circulation is very largely youthful fiction, some of it extremely youthful. The Library authorities endeavor to guide their selection as best they can; they are guarded in their purchases. Now and then a foolish book will slip in, but it is thrown out as soon as they are made aware of the facts. On the whole, the Library will bear comparison with any other of its class.

The deed of the gift of Mr. Crane of the land mentioned in the report of last year has been passed over to the Library.

The exhibit of views from the Library Art Club during the year has included those of Florence, Nuremberg, Venice, Germany, China, the Passion Play, etc. The statistics in connection with the Library are given below.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Report of Overseer of the Poor.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

In presenting the annual report of this department particular attention should be given to the fact that while the City of Quincy has grown in population to nearly 30,000, an increase of over 100 per cent. since its incorporation, the annual appropriation for the support of the poor and needy has been but slightly increased. As a consequence each year there is a deficit. Such a condition is neither pleasing nor encouraging to an official. Everybody will concede that as the city grows so will the number of poor increase. The estimate furnished by this department for the annual budget of 1905 was $10,500 and the expense has been $10,500.93. This certainly shows that the estimate was a conservative one.

Unlike any other department the Overseer of the Poor has practically no control over the actual amount to be expended. The expense for families aided within the city and those supported in the Almshouse are always known, but among the families aided are those who have settlements in other places. The cost for them is taken from the appropriation and when the city is reimbursed the money goes into the treasury as a receipt. Last year there was received about $1,000 for these cases.

In addition to this drain upon the amount allotted comes the expense caused by the commitment of adults and children to state hospitals and institutions by the courts. In these cases the Overseer is helpless to offer any protest, as the commitment is made upon the recommendation of others under the provisions of the Revised Laws. The Overseer is only summoned in these cases so that he may secure information to determine the proper settlement and subsequent liability for the payment of the expense incurred.

All persons living in other places within the State and receiving aid and whose legal settlement is in Quincy, are supported by those places and later the expense must be paid by this city under the provisions of the Revised Laws. It is impossible to accurately estimate what amount will be necessary to meet these obligations, but having found out that the average expense of the department for the past few years has been nearly $11,000, it is absolutely unreasonable to presume that the department can be supported with an appropriation of $9,000. The city may be limited with its finances, but before it undertakes new schemes, which create additional expense without added service, it should provide money enough to support its poor department without obliging it to exceed the amount appropriated. Here is one fact that should not be lost sight of, that the Poor Department cannot stop its work when the appropriation is exhausted. Even though the office should be closed, when only money enough remained to support the Almshouse, the work would be continued by the state and the city would later have to reimburse the state under the provisions of the Revised Laws. Perhaps under these conditions the state might be more liberal in dispensing aid than would this department.

ALMSHOUSE.

This institution is one of the best located in the state. It is upon high ground and from all sides comes pure, fresh air, which no doubt accounts for the excellent health of the inmates. The grounds are adapted to making the Home look attractive and early as well as late during the past year the various flower beds were in full bloom and the walks and approaches were kept trimmed and neat. The outside appearance certainly pleased those who passed by the Home, but the inside was seldom inspected, either from lack of interest or because our citizens were not aware that they are privileged to enter.

On April 1 Mr. William J. Vaughan and wife were installed respectively as superintendent and matron and under their direction as well as by their untiring labor the building has been thoroughly renovated. Every room cleaned as it never had been before. The floors were washed, the walls were washed and this was followed by painting. Mattresses and bed comforters that for various reasons were unfit for further use were taken from the building and burned.

Clothes racks nailed to the walls were taken down and everything else was removed from the rooms that would furnish harbor for vermin. The old fashioned iron beds were taken outside the building and after being thoroughly cleaned, disinfected and washed were again placed in the rooms. These bedsteads should be replaced by more modern ones with wire springs. Because these persons are poor is no reason why they should be obliged to sleep on a hard bed. Today the sleeping rooms in our Almshouse are as clean and as pure as any rooms in the best regulated private homes of any of our citizens.

Everything that was found to be worn out and worthless was removed from the Home and consigned to the dump. Owing to a small amount of money only those things actually necessary were purchased, but by adding a few each year and by caring for that which we already have the Home will finally be equipped with the modern and inexpensive appliances which every good housekeeper uses.

For a number of years the basement has been used as a place for the men on stormy days and during the winter. It was a most unhealthy place for them and at the same time caused the whole building to become a nuisance. Early in the fall a building in the rear of the Home was remodelled and thoroughly cleaned at an expense of about $30, and the men were removed to it. They now have a nice place and their condition, as well as that of the Home, has been greatly improved.

The farming tools and stable furnishings were sadly in need of repairs. The greater part of the former are antiquated but with proper care they will last several more years. The wagons and carriages have been repaired only to a limited degree. With proper care and making permanent repairs they will again become as good as new.

As a farm the Quincy Almshouse is situated in a very poor place. The soil is light and sandy. Much of the part now under cultivation is gravelly and requires a large quantity of dressing to make it productive. The garden the past year more than paid for itself but it was not as successful as anticipated. This in a measure was due to the very dry weather. Another year we hope to have better results.

We would call your attention to the fact that while the City Stable and several buildings belonging to the Board of Health are located upon land of the Poor Department, and a section has been added to the Cemetery, there never has been a transfer of the parts occupied. This should be done that the interests of the city may be protected. Since 1895 the street department has been taking gravel from the Farm much to the benefit of that department and to the injury of the Farm. After they have used all they require the city will be obliged to spend a very large amount to put the place in presentable condition, it being located at the entrance to Mt. Wollaston Cemetery. It is to be hoped that this year this will be done, as the responsibility may then be placed. Under the present conditions the Cemetery Department cannot give proper deeds to lots in the section they occupy.

In closing this report we would state that the Quincy Almshouse today has received high praise from the inspector of the State Board of Charity, and knowing this our citizens may feel that their poor are being properly cared for. As a whole the inmates have conducted themselves in a creditable manner. The discipline is much improved. While there have been some bad cases they have been overcome by resorting to strict measures, and we feel that the coming year will see a marked improvement over all former years. We wish to extend our thanks to all who have assisted us in any way, more particularly to the Superintendent and Matron who have labored so faithfully and conscientiously.

The usual statistics are annexed to this report.

Report of City Physician.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

I have the honor to submit the following as the report of the City Physician for the year 1906.

I have made sixty-five visits to the Almshouse and seventy-eight visits to the outside poor under the direction of the Overseer of the Poor. I have made thirty visits to patients sick with contagious diseases—scarlet fever and diphtheria—to whom I was sent by the Board of Health.

To persons confined at the Police Station and others to whom I was called by the Police Department, I have made eighteen calls.

I have held an examination of the physical condition of applicants for appointment to the Police Department under the Civil Service rules. I have vaccinated eighteen children sent to me by the School authorities.

Three deaths have occurred in this practice, one resulting from diphtheria, one resulting from pneumonia and one from hemiplegia.

At the suggestion of the keeper, it has been my custom to call at the Almshouse weekly so as to keep myself informed of the physical condition of the inmates, who though not on the technical sick list are nearly all chronic invalids, incapacitated by various bodily ailments. I have thus been able to observe "in season and out of season" the care which has been given to those whose misfortunes have made them wards of the City, and I wish to report to your Honor, that in my judgment it has been intelligent and sympathetic.

While the rules of public institutions have to be enforced here and by necessity make a condition of living different from that which many poor people voluntarily adapt themselves to, they are without doubt established in wisdom and I hereby commend the patient individual care which the inmates receive.

To steer between the Scylla of Economy and the Charybdis of Humanitarianism, the Overseer of the Poor seems to me to have a very difficult course in the treatment of incurable cases. During the past year a nurse was provided for one invalid, who with a complication of ailments developed pneumonia from which she died. In another instance a patient, a paralytic, who was unable to help herself at all, was cared for and faithfully attended by the matron with the assistance of the inmates of the home until her death. This voluntary assumption of a nurse's duties by the matron, while highly commendable, should not be interpreted as a precedent, and I think it a fair professional statement that a single incurable, bedridden patient at the Almshouse requires the employment of a special attendant or nurse.

A mildly insane patient to whom in this age of specialties the Almshouse is not adapted, became violent and noisy and was committed to the Insane Hospital.

A patient who had developed an incipient tuberculosis was by advice from the Rutland Sanatorium furnished an opportunity for the special modern treatment which that institution affords.

I am pleased to note that the hygienic condition of the house has been improved by removing the men's smoking room from the basement of the building to a room outside.

As the duties of the City Physician vary in the different cities and as so many of our citizens seem to be of the impression that they include the care of all worthy poor I respectfully submit the section of the ordinance which defines them.

The City Physician shall attend, under the direction of the Overseer of the Poor, upon all sick paupers, whether state or city, and upon all sick persons under the care of the city authorities at the Almshouse or elsewhere in the city, and at the request of the Chief of Police upon all prisoners or other persons confined in the city lockup who require medical or surgical treatment.

He shall vaccinate all scholars in the public schools sent to him for that purpose by the School Committee, or Superintendent of Schools, and give them a certificate thereof.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY C. HALLOWELL, M. D.,

City Physician.

Public Burial Places

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The Managers of Public Burial Places respectfully submit the following report for the year 1905.

The work of this department has been successfully carried out during the past year largely upon the same lines of other years and within the amount appropriated for its use by the City Council. The appropriation for the year was $4,000, the same as in several years past. Of this amount $3,973.46 has been expended, leaving a balance on January 1 of $26.54. There are outstanding a few small bills, but the balance is more than enough to meet them. A very large part of this sum is expended for labor in the care of lots, re-grading, foundations, etc., for which the city receives a return. This return is paid directly into the City Treasury.

During the year twenty lots have been sold, largely in the new part recently regraded. These new lots have been so laid out as to meet the wants of the majority of citizens, namely, a lot that can be purchased for a sum ranging from $40 to $60 and upwards. The wisdom of this move has been made apparent, for during the year a number of these have been sold.

Nothing has yet been done toward the completion of the work on the Sea Street side of Mt. Wollaston cemetery, but it is hoped that this work may be finished before another Memorial Day.

It seems to your Board that while this land is still uncompleted, the time has arrived for the removal of the Soldiers' monument to this site. The site of the monument is now very undesirable for the reason that it is surrounded by lots whose owners rightly object to the way in which they are used at the annual Memorial Day exercises at the monument. Hundreds of citizens attend these exercises and arrange themselves about the monument, forgetting that they are standing upon the graves of persons buried in these lots. The result is that the grass is badly trodden and it is almost impossible to keep these lots looking as their owners desire them to be. If the monument were moved to the Sea Street side of the cemetery it would not only be in a sightly place, but be much more convenient for the Grand Army as well as the citizens at large. It is understood that the removal of the monument to this site could be done for less than $300, and it seems to your Board that such an expenditure should be made for this purpose at an early date.

The carrying out of the lawn plan adopted some years ago has been continued this year and seventeen lots have been regraded and placed under the lawn plan during the year. The expense of this work is borne largely by lot owners and the improvement of the lots regraded is so marked that your Board is receiving more orders every year than it can fill for lack of sufficient appropriation. By doing a few lots each year, however, it will not be many years before the entire cemetery has been regraded and placed upon the lawn plan.

Ten lots have been placed under perpetual care during the year, for which purpose $1,175 has been deposited. The total sum now held in trust for this purpose is $20,913 outside of the sum held for the C. C. Johnson lot. This sum is deposited in the Quincy Savings Bank and National Granite Bank.

Some little care has been bestowed upon the Hancock cemetery, but not as much as your Board would have liked to have done had it more funds at its disposal.

The receipts of the department for the year, exclusive of the amount deposited for perpetual care, was:

Report of City Solicitor

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

I beg leave to submit the following report in regard to the legal matters of the city committed to my charge as City Solicitor.

During the year there have been several matters before Special Commissions and Legislative Committees affecting the city, in which I have appeared on behalf of the city, necessitating much time in the preparation and presentation thereof.

Chief among these were the hearings before a special Commission appointed by the Supreme Judicial Court under the authority of Chapter 407 of the Acts of 1893 to consider and report upon the proportions which each city and town within the Metropolitan Parks District should pay toward the cost of construction and maintenance of Metropolitan Parks and Boulevards.

These hearings were held during the early part of the year 1905 and covered a period of several weeks, necessitating the preparing of a brief setting forth the facts peculiar to the city and the printing of fifty copies thereof for the use of the Commission and the counsel of the other cities and towns interested.

This Commission has since reported its findings, and the proportion to be paid during each of the succeeding five years by each city and town within the district has been determined.

Next in order were the hearings before a Special Commission to determine the proportion each city and town within the South Metropolitan Sewerage district should pay during the next five years towards the cost of construction and maintenance of the South Metropolitan sewer. A number of hearings were had before this commission and its report has been filed into the Supreme Judicial Court.

The final hearings before the Special Commission to apportion the cost of the Fore River bridge were held in the early part of the year. One member of the original commission having deceased after the evidence had all been introduced and before its report was made, and a new member been appointed in his stead, it was agreed by all counsel interested to leave the matter as it had been argued before the original commission with the understanding that the new member use the stenographic reports of the hearings as a basis of information. This was done with a view to expedite the report of the Commission. As yet no report has been filed by the Commissioners in this matter.

A hearing was given by the officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad relative to better train service. I appeared in conjunction with a special committee of the council and pressed certain suggestions toward remedying the existing conditions. As my predecessor, Mr. Blackmur, had one prior meeting with the same officials at which he courteously invited me to attend, the same courtesy was extended to him and he was present at the final meeting.

Nearly all the requests made were granted and today Quincy enjoys exceedingly good train service. Later in the year upon request the Railroad officials added an express train to Quincy at 11.13 o'clock P. M. to accommodate theatre patrons.

During the year a bill was introduced into the legislature authorizing the City of Quincy to borrow $200,000.00 without its limit of indebtedness for completing its system of sewerage. I appeared before the Legislative Committee having this matter in charge and was successful in having the bill reported.

In accordance with a motion of the City Council I made complaint before the Railroad Commissioners against the Old Colony Street Railway Company protesting against the increase of fares between Quincy and Brockton, and Quincy and Nantasket Beach, and asked that a hearing be given on these matters. At the hearing, at which the Mayor was also present, I presented the case on behalf of the city. The Commissioners decided that in view of the fact that they were about to recommend practically a rebuilding of the line of railway from Quincy to Brockton, it would be inadvisable at that time to recommend a reduction in fares on that line. As to the reduction on the Nantasket line that matter was deferred until the spring of 1906 when the Commission stated that they would hear the city again. This matter will be taken up by me this year.

In company with the Mayor I waited upon the Railroad Commissioners and also upon President Sullivan of the Old Colony Street Railway Company with a view to obtaining through street cars to the Dudley Street station of the Boston Elevated Railway. So successful were we that at present Quincy enjoys fifteen minute service to and from Dudley Street station until late at night.

Upon petition of one of the resident ministers of Quincy the city was summoned to appear before the Attorney General and show why it should not be proceeded against for misapplication of the Woodward Trust Fund. The city had by ordinance prescribed that certain city officials should be paid stated sums from this fund for services rendered in handling and caring for this fund. My predecessor, Mr. Blackmur, had rendered an opinion that it was legal for the city so to do. I presented Mr. Blackmur's opinion before the Attorney General and argued that the same was a true statement of the law. The Attorney General in his finding, however, intimated that the city ought not to use the fund for the purpose of paying salaries to its city officials and the City Council has since by ordinance remedied this.

Outside of the hearings on apportionment of the cost and maintenance of Metropolitan Parks and Boulevards and Metropolitan sewers, perhaps the most important matter coming before the law department was the matter of the widening and change of grade of Hancock Street at the Atlantic Bridge so called. Authority for the necessary widening and change in grade had been obtained from the County Commissioners by a prior administration, and the County Commissioners had entered a decree providing for the necessary change and specifying the work to be done thereunder. A special commission had been appointed by the Superior Court under the provisions of the Revised Laws to apportion the cost of the work upon the municipalities and corporations benefited. This Commission decided that the Railroad Company should carry the decision of the County Commissioners into effect and decided that the expense of the work should be apportioned in the following manner, to wit: Sixty per cent. upon the Old Colony Railroad Company, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, lessee; twenty-five per cent. upon the City of Quincy; and fifteen per cent. on the Old Colony Street Railway Company.

Upon assuming the duties of the office of City Solicitor I found that all work upon the bridge and street had been suspended for a period of several months owing to a certain indefiniteness in the decree of the County Commissioners. It appeared that while the decree of the County Commissioners had provided for a widening of the street to sixty-four feet, no provision had been made in the decree for supporting the street when so widened. The railroad officials contended that the city should purchase additional land in order to maintain dirt slopes; on the other hand the city maintained the railroad company should build retaining walls of granite on the line of the street as widened. Neither side seemed in a mood to concede to the demands of the other.

In conjunction with his Honor the Mayor I took the matter up with the proper officials of the railroad company. Many conferences were had, at several of which the City Engineer was present. The result was that the City Council passed Order No. 130 requesting the Mayor to sign and present a petition to the County Commissioners of Norfolk County requesting said County Commissioners to prescribe the manner and limits within which shall be made an alteration in the crossing of Hancock Street with the railroad of the Old Colony Railroad Company, the approaches thereto, the location of the railroad or way and in the bridge at the crossing; and to take all necessary steps to secure action on said petition. Accordingly a petition was drafted and presented to the County Commissioners. After a hearing of all parties interested and a view the County Commissioners entered a decree prescribing the manner and limits of such alterations in Sagamore, Old Colony and Madison Streets, and prescribing for retaining said streets by dirt slopes, bulkheads, or walls, or otherwise.

These matters had previously been considered and recommended to the County Commissioners by the City and the Attorney for the Railroad Company.

This practically necessitated going over the entire ground of the original proceedings.

A new special commission was appointed who apportioned the cost in the same relative amounts as had the prior special commission.

Work was immediately resumed on the bridge and street and the construction thereof is now practically completed.

The proportion of the cost of this bridge as well as of the Fore River Bridge falling upon the city to pay will undoubtedly be determined this year.

By the change in the lay-out of Sagamore Street, the grade of that street as well as of Madison Street and Old Colony Street is materially reduced, and a fine approach is now had to the Atlantic Station of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., making a lasting improvement in this section of the city.

In accordance with Order No. 66 of the City Council I entered complaint with the Board of Gas Commissioners of the Commonwealth against the Citizens' Gas Light Company protesting against the quantity and quality of gas furnished to consumers in the city, and also the exorbitant prices charged by said company for its gas.

A speedy hearing was asked in this matter.

With His Honor the Mayor I interviewed the Secretary of the Board of Gas Commissioners and was informed that upon the return of two of the Commissioners from Europe a hearing would be granted. Upon the return of the Commissioners in October of last year many interviews were held upon this perplexing question. The gas situation as affecting the city was carefully gone over with the result that it was the firm conviction that the only feasible solution of the problem lay in inducing the Boston Gas Company to enter the field in Quincy. The Citizens' Gas Company, spurred to action, petitioned the Board of Gas Commissioners for authority to increase its capital stock and for permission to enter into a contract with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for the purchase of gas and also for the sale of its capital stock to the Massachusetts Gas Company.

A public hearing on said petition of the Citizens' Gas Light Company was given by the Board of Gas Commissioners, the same being adjourned from time to time until the petition was finally disposed of.

At these hearings I appeared in conjunction with the Mayor and advocated that a sufficient increase of the capitalization of the Citizens' Company be granted, in order to permit it to make the necessary extensions to its plant and mains, as would enable it in the judgment of the Commission to properly care for the gas situation in the city, with a view to its future growth. I further advocated that in the event of the increase in capitalization being granted that such restrictions be imposed upon the issuance of the stock as would amply protect the city.

I was led to strongly favor the petition because of promises being made to the Mayor by the officials of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company that in event of the petition being granted the price of gas in the city would be reduced on July 1st, 1906, to $1.50 per thousand cubic feet, and a further reduction as soon as the business warranted the same. A further promise was made of a large extension of the gas mains in the city during this year.

Accordingly the petition of the Citizens' Gas Light Company was granted and the contract with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company approved by the Board and certain distinct purposes were specified for which the increase in stock was allowed.

It would seem that Quincy is in a fair way to have its gas service essentially improved in the immediate future.

During the year the following cases have been satisfactorily adjusted, all of them of several years' standing:

James P. King vs. the City of Quincy.

Alfred Hook vs. the City of Quincy.

Albion P. Wight vs. the City of Quincy.

The case of Florence N. Locke against the city has also recently been settled.

Several minor claims for personal injuries have been adjusted during the year.

In the settlement of these suits and claims I have taken the legal liability of the city into consideration, also the expenses of trial and have made settlements in cases only where I believed it good business judgment for the city so to do.

The suit of Annie M. Pates vs. the City of Quincy for injuries to property on Dimmock street owing to alteration on and change of grade in Dimmock street in 1902 was tried in January, 1906, before a jury in the Superior Court for Norfolk County. The damage estimated by experts for the plaintiff varied from $1,500 to $3,500. The jury awarded damages in the sum of $200.

The following old cases are still on the docket and pending trial:

Henry H. Savage vs. the City of Quincy for damages for land taken for the extension of Faxon road, Norfolk Downs.

First Congregational Society of Quincy vs. the City of Quincy involving the title of land near the fountain in City square.

Paul H. McIntire vs. the City of Quincy for personal injuries.

Zachari Farrela vs. the City of Quincy pending in Suffolk County is a suit for injuries received while at work in a sewer trench.

Martha E. Willett vs. the City of Quincy for personal injuries received from a fall on sidewalk of Franklin street.

Julia Foley vs. the City of Quincy for injuries sustained in being thrown from an overturned sleigh on Hancock street in 1904.

William Hanrahan vs. the City of Quincy, claim for damages against the city because of the burning of his building; the ground of claim being that the city did not provide suitable fire department.

One new suit brought against the city during the year 1905 by the Town of Weymouth for aid supplied to a pauper. This matter was on for trial in February but the city agreed to adjust the same upon the recommendation of the Overseer of the Poor.

I have had an office in City Hall during the year for the transaction of the business of my department, and have answered such questions as were asked me.

I have rendered opinions to the Mayor and heads of departments upon such questions as were submitted to me.

In view of the increasing size of the Law Library and the inadequacy of the quarters now assigned to it, and the growth of the city's legal business I would recommend that consideration be given to the advisability of constructing in City Hall a separate office for the City Solicitor.

I am urged to make this recommendation in view of the further fact that I found many volumes of the earlier reports of the Supreme Judicial Court as well as other volumes of rare value are now stored in the basement of City Hall, there not being room for them in the City Clerk's office, where the Law Library is at present located.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM R. THOMAS,
City Solicitor.

CONCLUSION.

Quincy with its cosmopolitan population can congratulate itself that for the past year it has had no serious crime. Drunkenness and its accompanying disturbances have been about all that the police have to deal with.

The liquor law has been enforced as well as possible with the means at our disposal. Convictions have been secured in nearly all of the cases brought before the Court.

Juvenile complaints have been numerous and it is a very serious problem in what manner to deal with them. Parents either wilfully neglect to properly look out for their children, or they have no control over them. While we do not like to bring juveniles before the Court in some cases it has been the only course left to pursue.

The Signal System has worked admirably the past year, thanks to Superintendent Gavin, having been out of order but a few hours and that after a heavy tempest.

The new light hitch for general use at the Station has been a good investment and has practically paid for itself.

I would recommend for sanitary reasons that the cells should be connected with the sewer. Why this was not done at the time the cells were first installed is a mystery as the odor that arises from them after eight or ten men have been confined over night or possibly from Saturday night until taken to the Court Monday morning is unbearable.

I would also recommend that arrangements be made with the Chief of Fire Department for a double steel cage to be placed in the new Fire Station at Hough's Neck. With telephone connection for the present and later a signal box, we would be prepared to give the residents of this locality far better protection than at present.

In closing this report I wish to thank his Honor, Mayor Thompson, Judge Avery, Clerk of Court Churchill, Probation Officer Spear and the officers and patrolmen of this department for the earnest support and courteous treatment received from them.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK E. BURRELL,

Chief of Police.

Adams Academy

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The Managers of Adams Academy respectfully present their report for the year 1905.

The school has been conducted during the past year by the Master, assisted by Messrs. J. D. Kent, Jr., and Thomas L. Bramhall. The services of Mr. John O. Hall, Jr., were greatly missed at the outset; and towards the end of the year it was deemed expedient to transfer a few classes to Mr. Royal Archibald Moore, a graduate of the class of 1901, who was just completing a most brilliant career at Harvard College.

Eight graduates received the diploma on the 24th of June. Of these one was admitted to Amherst College. Two graduates of the class of 1904, who had remained a fifth year in the school, entered Harvard and Amherst College, and a third who had been admitted, but did not enter Harvard in 1904, joined the same class,—all without conditions. Other members of the graduating class entered Boston College, Georgetown College and the Tufts College Medical School.

The prizes for this year for the first time were purchased with the Robert Charles Billings fund.

A larger number of boys has entered the school this year than either of the two previous years.

The Board of Managers has shared with all other interests in Quincy in the loss of their colleague, Dr. Joseph Maurice Sheahan, whose constant regard for the school was manifested in the most practical manner.

Board of Health

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The Board of Health respectfully submit the following report for the year ending December 31, 1905.

The organization of the Board for the past year was determined by ballot as follows:

William H. Teasdale, Chairman,
Ross K. Whiton, M. D., Clerk,
Henry P. Kittredge.

The Inspectors of the Board remain as they have been in the past:

Edward J. Lennon, Sanitary Inspector,
J. J. Keniley, Inspector of Plumbing,
Frederick E. Goss, Inspector of Meats and Provisions.

During the past year we have attended to the rapidly increasing duties of our department as diligently as possible, and have used our best efforts in caring for the public health and saving its citizens from public and private nuisances. Being a new Board, of course we found, at the start, many difficulties confronting us. Under the conditions then existing, it was well nigh impossible to have a good system, as there was no one in constant attendance at the office. With the consent of the Civil Service Commission, we have for the past few months kept a clerk in constant attendance, thereby being able to keep records, etc., in a systematic manner.

At the beginning of the year, the Board, after carefully estimating the cost of maintaining the department for the ensuing year, requested an appropriation of $5,880.00, divided as follows:

For Garbage	$3,600.00
For Miscellaneous

For Nuisances	1,500.00
For Contagious Diseases
For Inspection	780.00

This sum was believed to be as small an amount as would be possible to do the work in a satisfactory manner. The City Council, however, believing that the Garbage could be taken care of for a smaller amount, reduced our figures to $3,000.00, the other amounts remaining the same. As a result, we have been obliged to ask the Council for a small transfer to our Garbage Department.

Early in the year we adopted certain general rules and regulations with the view of preventing nuisances and protecting the public from contagious diseases. In addition to these we adopted other rules relating to Barber-shops, Baker-shops, Plumbing and Stables. All the rules thus adopted have been rigidly enforced as far as has been practical.

GARBAGE.

In the early spring we faced the very difficult problem of the disposal of the City's garbage. Bids were solicited in Quincy and surrounding towns. Only one bid was received, which was not satisfactory to the Board. Finally a contract was made with Mr. Michael Crowne of Dorchester, who has charge of the Boston garbage in that district, which, we believe, was very advantageous to the City.

Coming now to the actual house to house collection of garbage, we were confronted with a still greater problem. With the limited means at hand, we were called upon to collect the garbage, not only from the permanent population, but also from a greatly increased summer population. Judging from the lack of complaints, we assume that it was done in a very satisfactory manner. The collectors of the garbage complained of the lack of proper garbage receptacles at the various houses. Consequently cards were printed bearing our regulation in regard to the keeping of swill in properly covered receptacles, which were left at these houses. This apparently remedied the evil.

SCAVENGER WORK.

A little later in the year the system of the scavenger department gave us great concern. Orders for the cleaning of vaults and cesspools were taken by so many different persons, that it was impossible to keep an account of the work to be done. Now, however, that all orders are required to be given at the Board of Health office, the work is proceeding in a perfectly satisfactory manner.

NUISANCES.

Our record book shows that one hundred and ninety-three complaints of public and private nuisances have reached this office and practically every one has been fully abated. These nuisances consisted chiefly of overflowing cesspools, vaults, rubbish, poultry, and such things. In the case of overflowing cesspools and vaults the Board, after due consideration, decided that it was necessary for the public safety, that wherever the property abutted the public sewer, to order those places to be connected with the same. Consequently forty-seven pieces of property were ordered to be connected with the public sewer and in every instance the owner has complied. To take care of rubbish, ashes, etc., we have maintained, as in the past, certain places known as "dumps." These have been kept in a sanitary condition.

In March several complaints reached us of the existence in this City of the gypsy and brown-tail moths. The Board had a large number of signs printed which were posted about the City warning the inhabitants and advising them to destroy the nests by fire.

INSPECTION OF CANAL AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

On April 3d the City Council requested the Board to inspect the canal, located in Ward 1, and report back the best means of abating the nuisances there existing. After due consideration, we believed the only way of permanently abating the nuisance was by constructing stone retaining walls along each side of the canal. Consequently with the aid of the City Engineer we prepared plans and estimates for doing the work, which were forwarded to the City Council.

On June 12th we received a request from the City Council to inspect the sanitary conditions of the various public schools and report back the needs of each school. On June 21st, accompanied by the Inspector of Plumbing, the Board visited all the schools. The results of our investigations were forwarded to the City Council with the recommendation that certain schools should be connected with the public sewer.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Board wish to make the following recommendations: That the City Council take early action upon the recommendation of the School Committee of December 4, 1905, for a new Coddington School; that the sum of $2,000.00 be appropriated for the caring of ashes throughout the City, to be spent under the direction of the Board of Health; that the Old Colony Street Railway Co. be requested to establish, for its patrons, a public waiting room with adjoining toilet rooms; that the City construct a Contagious Hospital to be under the direct control of the Board of Health; that the Board of Health be provided with the necessary funds to establish a bacteriological laboratory.

LICENSES GRANTED.

The following licenses were granted by the Board in 1905:

Plumbers	32
Undertakers	8
Stables	9
Garbage	43
Tallow	4
Stable permits refused	3

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Unfortunately in May we were called upon to open and equip the small-pox hospital for the reception of two small-pox patients. A third person had the disease, but it was so light that it was not discovered and consequently not reported until the patient had recovered. By constant watchfulness we were able to stamp out this disease, although many persons had been exposed to it. As soon as the hospital was free of contagion, we immediately had the building put into proper condition for future use by having hot water and a bath tub installed.

In June we were called upon to combat a small epidemic of diphtheria among the pupils of the Adams School. Failing to entirely eradicate the disease by a thorough disinfection of the school we were compelled to order the school closed in the last week of the term, and during the summer vacation the building was connected with the public sewer.

As shown in the table below there were two hundred and forty-one (241) cases of contagious diseases reported to this Board last year as against two hundred and fifty-one (251) cases in 1904. The mortality among these cases was greater, however, there being sixty-nine (69) deaths this year as against fifty-six (56) in 1904.

The following are the reports of the Inspectors of the Board.

Quincy, Mass., January 1, 1906.

To the Board of Health:

Gentlemen:—I respectfully submit the following report for the year 1905 as Sanitary Inspector. Number of premises disinfected for contagious diseases, 137, as follows:

Diphtheria	73
Scarlet Fever	32

Consumption	18
Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis	9
Small-pox	4
School House	1
Unclean cesspools and vaults ordered cleaned	109
Number of premises inspected on complaint	302

Pig nuisance	4
Impure well water	2
Rotten eggs and fish	3
Hen nuisance	4
Filthy house and cellar	2
Nuisance from rabbits	2
Impure water for cattle	2
Filthy yards	7
Filthy stables	4
R. R. Toilet in filthy condition	2
Dead animals	5
Soggy land	1
Rotten vegetables	1
Garbage licenses issued	43
Tallow licenses issued	4

I wish to call your attention to the care of the water-courses of this City. Until the last three years the Board of Health had charge of the cleaning of the brooks and drains. At that time the Commissioner of Public Works, C. F. Knowlton, took charge of the same without consulting the Board of Health, and this year the Commissioner did the same. Therefore I do not know whether they have all been cleaned or not. Furnace Brook from Hancock St. to where the Boulevard crosses Cross St. West Quincy, comes under the Metropolitan Park Commission and that part of Furnace Brook in rear of St. Mary's Cemetery, new part, is filled with vegetable matter almost level with the banks of said brook.

I want to thank you for your courteous treatment during the past year and also for your impartial enforcement of the rules and orders of your Board relating to Sanitary Inspection, as it is the first Board of Health I have served under that had the moral courage to enforce their own regulations and orders.

Yours truly,

EDWARD J. LENNON,
Sanitary Inspector.

Quincy, Mass., Jan. 1, 1906.

To the Board of Health of the City of Quincy:

Gentlemen:—I herewith render you my report for the year ending December 30, 1905.

Number of permits granted	44
Number of inspections	411

Yours respectfully,

FREDERICK E. GOSS,
Inspector of Meats and Provisions.

Quincy, Mass., January 1, 1906.

To the Board of Health:

Gentlemen:—As Inspector of Plumbing in the City of Quincy I have the honor to submit to you my twelfth annual report for the year ending December 31, 1905.

During the past year, changes have been made in the ordinance of the City relating to plumbing, which are of a two-fold benefit to the property owner. The cost of the work has been reduced without detriment to its mechanism and with no interference to the sanitary conditions entailed.

There have been very few complaints for the violation of the ordinance and where made the faults were speedily rectified. In only two instances were plumbers proceeded against legally.

In one municipal building, the Adams School, the dry system was abolished and a system of water closets installed, which tends to greatly improve the sanitary conditions of the building.

Since my last report the following matter has been attended to:

Dwelling houses inspected	330
Offices inspected	1
Churches inspected	2
School houses inspected	1
Laundries inspected	1
Stores inspected	7
Beach cottages inspected	27
Halls inspected	2
Old buildings connected with the sewer	205
New buildings connected with the sewer	72
Railroad Stations inspected	1
Stables inspected	3
Factories inspected	2
Number of permits issued	452
Permits cancelled	9
Permits issued, work unfinished	39
Aggregate estimate value of work	$63,000.00

Respectfully submitted,

J. J. KENILEY,

Inspector of Plumbing.

Quincy, Mass., December 27, 1905.

To the Board of Health:

This Board begs leave to make the following report:

One examination was held during the year, four applications were received for the journeyman plumber's examination. Three of the four applicants were successful in passing and were granted journeyman plumber's licenses.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. A. BRADFORD,

Secretary.

Report of City Engineer, 1905,

To His Honor The Mayor of The City of Quincy:—

I herewith submit the sixth annual report of the Engineering Department for the year ending December 30th, 1905.

CITY COUNCIL

The following plans and estimates have been made by request of the Chairman of Committees, or for different members of the City Council:—

Glendale Road for acceptance
 Newcomb place
 Broadway (Ward 2)
 Holmes street
 Dixwell avenue
 Curtis street
 Bromfield street
 Everett street
 Dimmock street Extension for acceptance
 Cottage avenue
 Sea street to low water mark
 Granite street widening
 Glencoe place

Orders have been written for all streets accepted the past year; also all permanent sidewalk orders.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

The work for this department has been done by order of the Commissioner. Lines and grades have been given on all new streets built this year, and stone monuments set at the principle boundary points. Levels and measurements have been made on the Bellevue Park gravel pit and the gravel pit in the rear of the Quincy school, Ward 6. Lines and grades were given for the improvement of Center street, Ward 3, for Taylor street drain and catch basins, Ward 5, and for Hancock street improvement near Hancock street bridge. Lines and grades were given and schedules made for all edgestones set during the year.

WATER DEPARTMENT

Locations have been given for all water pipe extensions during the year. Measurements, locations of gates and sizes of pipe noted.

SEWER DEPARTMENT

Since the abolition of the sewerage commissioners in February, the engineering for that department has been done by the City Engineer. All estimates, lines and grades have been given on all extensions, including the trunk line from Washington street through Cleverly court, South and Howard streets to a point just east of Winter street. All engineering work has been charged to the appropriation for sewer construction.

BOARD OF HEALTH

A plan and estimate was made for the improvement of the Canal from Washington street to opposite the end of Newcomb street. A plan and estimate was also furnished for the abatement of the Gragg pond nuisance in Ward 4.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Accurate courses were laid off on Adams street, Franklin street and Washington street for testing the speed of automobiles.

CEMETERY DEPARTMENT

Lines and grades were given and plans made for all new lots and paths in the Mt. Wollaston Cemetery by order of the Superintendent.

ASSESSORS DEPARTMENT

The balance of the appropriation for $1000 made in 1904 has been used to complete the plans for Ward 6. To date there are completed 488 plans representing Wards 1-2-3-5 and 6. It would recommend another appropriation the coming year to complete Ward 4, thus having an entire suvey of the city.

HOUSE NUMBERING

This work is carried on in conjunction with the assessors work. During the year 21 plans have been made and numbers assigned to 114 houses.

Respectfully submitted,

HAMILTON FLOOD

City Engineer.

Woodward Institute

To the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN: The work of the Board of Directors of the Woodward Institute during the year 1905 has been continued along the lines of previous years, regular meetings having been maintained and progress stimulated in all departments.

Mr. Frank E. Parlin, Superintendent of the Institute has submitted to the Board his annual report which we have read, approved and ordered printed. This report deserves your careful attention. For five years Mr. Parlin has done excellent work and his report this year confirms the policy adopted by the Board five years ago, that in the management of the Institute the Directors should be assisted by a trained educator.

WILLIAM E. GARDNER,

For the Board of Directors.

January 1, 1906.

Report of Superintendent

To the Board of Directors of Woodward Institute:

GENTLEMEN: The report herewith submitted is in the series of annual reports of Woodward Institute, the twelfth, and of the Superintendent the fifth.

A good school provides for the physical, intellectual, social and moral training of its pupils. This Woodward is doing with increasing efficiency. On entering the school each girl is given a careful physical examination to determine her personal needs and, if found necessary, a course of corrective exercises is prescribed. The value of the work of the Department of Physical Training becomes more apparent each year. The girls generally appreciate it and many of the mothers are beginning to appreciate it also. The pupils are in the school at just the time of life when careful physical training, judicious counsel and practical instruction in physiology and hygiene will correct many defects and fortify them against many ills in later years. It is the kind of training, instruction and care every girl should receive during her teens. Two of the best proofs of the value of this work are the general improvement in the health of the girls and the greater attention they give to their personal habits.

The Department of Household Science and Arts gives a thoroughly practical course of three years in cooking and general housekeeping, including the "furnishing of a house with a view to health, convenience, economy and refinement, as well as a knowledge of selecting, cooking and serving foods." It tends to stimulate a desire to become a good home-maker and to develop a sense of method, order and neatness. The course is not only practical and popular but of high educational value. There are eighty-five pupils in this department, forty-four in the first year and forty-one in the second.

The academic departments of language, literature, history, mathematics, science and business, if less attractive in their method of work, are nevertheless most important on the intellectual side and not less essential in the preparation for practical life. Although these departments are not all equally efficient, all are doing good, most of them excellent work. The difference is due largely to a difference in natural adaptation on the part of the teachers. One may learn to teach well but, to teach excellently, she must be born to the profession. Often in a school of this kind there are other qualities of a teacher which count as much, or even more, than teaching ability, among them, manners, personal interest in the pupils and general influence upon the school.

Those who have carefully observed the results in the departments of art and music could hardly have failed to discover that the instruction is of a high order and that the pupils learn more than the mere technics of these arts. To learn to appreciate the beautiful in form, color and tone ought to increase one's appreciation of the beautiful in thought and conduct, for the essence of all arts is one and the ethical is closely related to the truly aesthetic.

The moral tone and influence of the school appear in the prevailing standards of conduct; in the lady-like manners; in the loyalty to duty; in the courteous, considerate and respectful relations of teachers and pupils; and in the spirit of dignity, sincerity and refinement which pervades the school. The common amenities and social customs are also taught through a series of class meetings held on Friday afternoons, at which varied literary and musical programs are presented by the pupils although the social element predominates. Each class has a meeting once a month. Two teachers are assigned to advise and assist each class and the other teachers are invited to the meetings as guests. Two or three times a year one class gives another a reception. During the fall term, for instance, the seniors give a reception to the entering class and try to make the new comers feel at home and that the whole school is interested in the happiness of each member.

The improvement in the school spirit and in the feeling of personal responsibility not only for their individual work but for the good order and good name of the school has been noticeable during the last year. The pupils have exhibited increasing thoughtfulness and a growing spirit of mutual helpfulness and courtesy. There appear to be no unwholesome rivalries nor petty jealousies.

There has been but one change in the corps of teachers during the year, Miss Anna W. Pinkham taking the place in the Department of English of Miss L. Florence Kimball who resigned in August. Miss Pinkham is a graduate of the Quincy High School and of Wellesley College where she specialized in English.

Although the attendance in 1904 was good, it has been better during 1905, being 93 per cent., a gain of .7 per cent. Tardiness has decreased 6 per cent and the number of dismissals 15 per cent. First, these facts indicate an improvement in the health of the pupils. They also indicate a greater appreciation of the importance of regularity of attendance on the part of parents, greater interest on the part of the pupils and greater efficiency on the part of the school.

The following table shows the class and total enrolment of pupils each year since the school was opened, also the number of regular and special teachers employed:

	Seventh Class	Sixth Class	Fifth Class	Fourth Class	Third Class	Junior Class	Senior Class	Post Graduates	Total	Teachers
										Regular	Special	Total

1904—1905,				47	38	38	33	4	160	8	3	11
Fall of 1905,				47	43	35	37	6	168	8	3	11

The graduates of last June numbered twenty-four. The entering class of September numbered forty-seven. Of the outgoing class six returned for graduate work, five entered normal schools, one entered Dr. Sargent's school of physical training, one a kindergarten training school and two are teaching.

During the year Mr. John D. Buckingham, instructor in music, presented four volumes of Famous Composers and Their Works to the school. Mr. George W. Morton presented a copy of the sermon preached at the First Church, Quincy, by Rev. John D. Wells on the Sunday next following the burial of Dr. Ebenezer Woodward, the generous founder of this Institute. The Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library presented a portrait of Thomas Crane, and Mr. Charles E. Goodspeed and Mr. Fred B. Rice presented copies of Marshall's portraits of Lincoln and Grant neatly framed.

Very important changes have been made in the heating plant which have resulted in the greater efficiency of the plant and in a considerable reduction in running expenses. A large well-arranged closet for dishes and supplies has been placed in the cooking room. One section of the roof of the building has been re-shingled. Various minor repairs have been made, including new conductors and dry wells to receive water from the conductors and the exhaust from the boiler.

Two or three of the typewriters are so worn and out of date as to be of little use and should be replaced by new machines. The policy of making each year a substantial addition to the library, laboratory and gymnasium equipment should be continued. The Institute building should be repainted outside and re-tinted inside.

Finally, the following facts may not be out of place at this time. Six years ago the same number of teachers were employed as at present although there were, including the preparatory class, less than eighty pupils in daily attendance. The pupils were providing their own text-books and supplies. There was no Department of Household Science and Arts, and the Department of Physical Training had the services of a director only two days a week. All improvements and repairs upon the grounds and school plant were made by the Trustees of the Woodward Fund and yet the average per capita expense based on the total enrolment was over one hundred twenty-six dollars a year.

Now, the school has an actual membership of one hundred sixty-seven pupils in the regular courses. Free text-books and supplies are furnished to all. Over a hundred dollars annually are spent for reference books for the library and an equal sum for laboratory equipment. A three years' course in domestic science is maintained, and the Department of Physical Training, which includes physiology, hygiene and gymnasium practice requires the entire time of the director. All expenses for improvements, repairs, furniture and insurance are in the hands of this Board and are charged to the running of the school. Notwithstanding the increase of a hundred per cent. in the membership, the greater advantages offered and the additional items of expense, the annual per capita cost is less than half what it was six years ago and considerably less than in many of the city high schools of the State, few of which offer as broad a course as does Woodward Institute.

The policy of employing a superintendent for this school has been tried long enough to determine whether it is a wise one or not, and, in order that the Board of Directors may be entirely free to fix the future policy of management, I hereby tender my resignation as superintendent to take effect at the pleasure of the Board.

Sincerely thanking all who have co-operated with me in my efforts to realize the wish of the founder, that the Institute "be as perfect and as well conducted as any other in the state", and assuring you of my continued interest in its welfare, I submit this report.

Very respectfully,

FRANK E. PARLIN,

December 30, 1905.

Superintendent.

EXPLANATIONS

Required work includes subjects which all pupils are expected to take unless excused by the Principal.

With the consent of the Principal a pupil may select from the electives as many subjects as her health and ability will warrant. Ordinarily she is expected to elect not less than twelve (12) nor more than fourteen (14) periods per week. The approval of parents should accompany any request to take a greater or less amount of work.

In the column marked "periods" is indicated the number of exercises per week.

In the column marked "credits" is indicated the number of points allowed for satisfactory work in each subject. A total of eighty (80) points or credits entitles a pupil to a diploma. One additional credit will be allowed each year for excellence in conduct and effort.

A pupil in any class may elect from the preceding years' lists any subject which she has not satisfactorily completed.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

LITERATURE.

The first two years of the course in literature are spent in reading carefully, but without attempting analysis and criticism, as much of the world's best literature as the time will allow. The books are selected because they are adapted to the minds of the readers and are worth reading. They include not only English classics but good translations from the literature of various nations and cover many subjects. There are three distinct aims in the course: (1) to teach the students to read intelligently and enjoyably; (2) to develop in them a taste for good literature; (3) to lay a broad foundation for the subsequent study and appreciation of the English classics selected for the third and fourth years. These are taken up in the order of narration, description, exposition, and argument. An outline history of English literature, supplemented by a study of English poets, completes the four years' course.

RHETORIC.

One period a week is assigned to each of the three upper classes for the study of rhetoric.

COMPOSITION.

Four compositions are required each week from the three upper classes. The work is correlated with the course in literature—narration, description, exposition and argument, each taken in turn. The course is designed to awaken the interest of the pupils in theme-writing and to enable them to express their thoughts clearly and logically.

The pupils are urged to write from their own experience to write often, to eliminate by degrees all faulty expressions and to acquire the habit of using simple, correct, idiomatic English words.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL TRAINING

Physical Training I.

Individual prescription work.

Class work. Military marching; free, ring and horizontal bar exercises.

Games.

Physiology I.

Relation of health to posture, cleanliness and dress.

Study of the skeleton and of the muscular system.

Emergencies.

Physical Training II.

Individual prescription work.

Class work. Marching, fancy steps; free, dumb-bell, club, and wand exercises.

Games.

Physiology II.

Anatomy, physiology, and hygiene of the respiratory and digestive systems.

Practical demonstrations and experiments.

Emergencies.

Physical Training III.

Individual prescription work.

Class work. Marching; free, chest-weight, horizontal bar, ring and club exercises.

Fencing.

Games.

Physiology III.

Anatomy, physiology and hygiene of the circulatory and nervous systems.

Study of the special senses.

Physical Training IV.

Individual prescription work.

Class work. Marching, jig and fancy steps; free, bounding ball, dumb-bell, chest-weight, club, wand, and ring exercises.

Games.

Physiology IV.

Physiology of the nervous system.

Papers on diet, exercise, sleep, bathing, and clothing.

Talks on "First aid to the injured" together with practical demonstrations.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

- I. Original work in inspectional geometry and elementary algebra.
- II. Elementary algebra completed.
- III. Plane geometry,—demonstrations and original work.
- IV. Solid geometry or advanced work in algebra.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

The aim of the department of music is to cultivate a taste for good music and to prepare the girls for intelligent and appreciative work in the further pursuit of the art in its various branches.

The vocal and choral study includes vocalization, solfeggio, sight reading, dynamics, breath control, intonation, enunciation unison and part singing.

The elementary theoretical work (required) aims to give the pupil a thorough foundation in the elements of music and includes rhythm, meter intervals, the derivation and construction of our present day tonalities, major, all minor forms and chromatic scale in all keys, triads, chords of the dominant and diminished sevenths and cadences, leading to the study of Harmony—elective but strongly advised for all pupils in vocal or instrumental study.

Individual class work, one period weekly.

Vocal and choral work (entire school required) one period weekly.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

- I. A preliminary consideration of the origin and races of mankind,—their primitive condition, migrations, and progress toward civilization.

A brief study of the extinct civilization of the East.

Greek history to the death of Alexander.

- II. Roman history from the founding of the city to the fall of the empire.

- III. English history from the Roman invasion to the accession of Edward VII.

- IV. American history, special attention being given to the forces which have shaped the government of the United States and developed its present institutions. Civil government of the United States.

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE

- I. Introduction to science,—training in careful observation and scientific methods as a preparation for subsequent work.

The evolution of the solar system and the formation of the earth.

The elementary facts of astronomy and geology.

The examination of a few of the common minerals and rocks.

The systematic observation and record of some common phenomena.

Simple experiments to ascertain facts or to test given propositions.

The classifications of facts under divisions of science.

II. Zoology, first half year.

The time is about evenly divided between laboratory and recitation work.

Elementary work in morphology, physiology and some ecology.

Botany, second half year.

There is considerable field work for the purpose of identifying plants, studying their habitat and procuring specimens for a small herbarium.

III. Chemistry or Physics.

A class in one subject only will be formed for those electing science in the third year.

IV. Physics or Chemistry.

The subject not taken in the third year is offered in the fourth.

DEPARTMENT OF LATIN AND GREEK

LATIN.

I. Latin Lessons.

Translation of prose selections.

II. Cæsar,—Commentaries on Gallie War, books I-IV inclusive.

Sight reading.

Prose composition.

Grammar.

- III. Cicero,—Orations against Catiline, The Manilian Law, and Archias.
Sight reading.
Prose composition.
- IV. Virgil,—Æneid, books I-VI inclusive.
Sight reading.
Prosody.

GREEK.

- I. Greek Lessons.
Translation of easy Greek narrative.
- II. Zenophon,—Anabasis, books I-IV inclusive.
Sight reading.
Prose composition.
- III. Homer,—Illiad, books I-III inclusive.
Sight reading.
Prose composition based upon Attic Greek.

DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS

Commercial Arithmetic I. Subjects: Common and decimal fractions, common measures, interest, percentage, discount, insurance, taxes, duties, exchange, partnership. After a review of fundamental processes pupils are drilled in business methods.

Bookkeeping I. The principles of double and single entry bookkeeping are presented in a clear and practical manner. Neatness and accuracy are insisted upon.

Bookkeeping II. The work of the previous year is continued, giving, as far as possible in a school, business practice.

Stenography I. The principles of stenography are learned, and practice in reading and writing shorthand is begun.

Stenography II. Regular and systematic practice in reading and writing shorthand is continued in order to secure accuracy and speed.

Typewriting I. After the use of the typewriter has been learned, practice is given in writing from shorthand notes and from dictation.

Typewriting II. The practice of the preceding year is continued and pupils are taught to use at least one standard duplicator.

DEPARTMENT OF ART

The study of art must necessarily be considered as a whole rather than the work of different classes; therefore, the course of drawing is arranged to meet the needs of the individual student and is varied to suit any requirements.

Pupils are not only fitted for continuing their studies in advanced schools but also to appreciate the best in art.

The general plan is as follows:

Free-hand drawing of objects in pencil, and pen and ink, and principles of perspective.

Study of form, light and shade.

Study of design, applied decoration.

Study of color in water colors and in oil.

Modeling and casting.

Mechanical drawing.

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE AND ARTS

The first year includes:

- I. A simple outline of the location and surroundings of a home and the proper conditions existing in that home. Special attention is given to the dining room and kitchen, together with the care and use of their furnishings and utensils.
- II. Study of air, fire, water and some of the most important elements in relation to life, heat, cooking.
- III. Study of food, its functions; growth, waste and repair of the human body.
- IV. Food principles: water, carbohydrates, protein, fats and oils, mineral matter. Under these subjects foods are prepared and cooked by the pupils. The composition, food value, growth, market value and best method of serving are discussed.
- V. Visits to the markets to see the cutting up of beef, lamb and veal, that the pupils may be able to buy economically and understandingly the different cuts of meat.

The second year course will be a continuation and enlargement of the first year course with lessons on invalid cooking and serving.

The third year work will include the selecting of an imaginary site and the building and furnishing of a home in detail, the care of the home and all its furnishings, also a short course on sanitation and laundry work. The pupils will make out inexpensive menus, cooking and serving the same. Simply dietaries will also be worked out for families of four and six.

CLASS ODE

Written by Margaret Lyons

Farewell the shore where we've lingered long,
Adieu to the friends we have made,
Stay us not on our course, we are strong
And of peril and toil unafraid.

Though the waves of Temptation may rise
And threaten to scatter our fleet,
We will ever turn forward our eyes
And trust in the harbor to meet.

After crossing the fathomless ocean
To our goal on the opposite shore,
We'll remember with fervid devotion
The days when we toiled at the oar.

Report of the School Committee

To the Citizens of Quincy :

The School Committee presents herewith its annual report, and is pleased to be able to note material progress toward the proper housing of the pupils. At the present time, it looks as though the efforts of your Committee to relieve the deplorable conditions existing at the High School will bear fruit, for the High School enlargement has passed beyond the preliminary stages. Plans have been approved by the School Committee and money has been appropriated by the City Council for the enlargement in accordance with these plans. It is earnestly hoped that the work may be commenced and the building completed before the opening of the fall term of next year. The plans approved by your Committee call for a building which will accommodate one thousand pupils and will possess the requisites of a modern High School for a city of the size of Quincy.

The completion of the addition and the remodelling of the present building will, we believe, give to the city a High School which will meet all demands in this direction for a number of years to come.

One source of worry to the School Committee has thus been eliminated, but there still confronts it, the needed accommodations for the primary and grammar grades in some parts of the city, notably in the Quincy, Coddington and Lincoln districts, to which the attention of the Council has already been called.

Believing as we do, that the public schools are the bulwark of the nation, we feel justified in insisting that suitable buildings be provided and that the excessive crowding of young children in poorly ventilated and badly lighted rooms, now necessarily existing, cease at the earliest possible moment. Therefore, the request of the Committee for proper buildings in the above mentioned districts is not unreasonable and should not be ignored.

Superior educational results can be obtained only under favorable conditions, both physical and mental. The proper housing of the pupils would go a long way toward satisfying the physical conditions. The mental conditions may be and are largely influenced by the physical conditions which surround the young pupil. In this connection, attention is called to the fact, which has been presented in former reports of the School Committee, that our corps of teachers is weakened every year by the loss of experienced teachers who are attracted by the larger salaries paid in other cities.

It is manifest to the School Committee that a change of teachers during a school year must affect unfavorably the progress of the pupils directly concerned in such change. And when it happens, as in the past year, that a large number of experienced teachers are withdrawn from the teaching corps, the effect upon the pupils must of necessity be bad and must place the pupils directly affected at a disadvantage in comparison with other pupils in our own city and at a still greater disadvantage when compared with the pupils in cities paying higher salaries.

We desire to call attention to a few facts in connection with the question of teachers' salaries.

It has been found by investigation that the average maximum salary of grade teachers in all cities of this state having less than 10,000 pupils is ninety-five dollars a year more than the maximum salary of the same class of teachers in Quincy.

The maximum salary of grade teachers in Quincy serving in that capacity for less than fifteen years is five hundred dollars, and it has been found that this is fifty-one dollars and fifty-six cents less than the average income of the twenty-nine million "persons engaged in gainful occupations" in the United States.

The maximum salary of master's assistants is fifty-one dollars less in Quincy than the average maximum salary for the same positions in other cities in the state.

The maximum salary of male grammar school principals is two hundred and sixty-one dollars less than the average.

In the High School the maximum salary of female teachers is one hundred and twenty-five dollars less, and that of the male teachers is four hundred and eighty-four dollars less than the average maximum salaries. The salary of the High School principal is one hundred dollars less than the average.

The salary of supervisor of music in Quincy is two hundred and twenty-five dollars, and that of the supervisor of drawing three hundred and thirty-seven dollars below the average. The salary of the sewing teacher in Quincy is seventeen dollars above the average. The salary of the clerk of the School Department is one hundred dollars and that of the truant officer is five hundred and forty-nine dollars less than the average.

Most of the cities in the state have increased teachers' salaries during the last few years, the average increase in high schools within ten years being eighteen per cent. and in the elementary schools thirteen and one-half per cent. During the past ten years no material change in teachers' salaries has been made in Quincy, and practically no change has been made in the salaries of the grade teachers for twenty-five years.

During recent years, the living expenses have materially advanced, so that the net earnings of teachers in Quincy are considerably less than they were twenty-five years ago.

From the above figures, it can be readily seen why so many of our teachers resign during each year and especially those of the graded schools.

A more liberal policy in the appropriation for school purposes would enable the School Committee to better cope with the serious problem of maintaining the schools, especially the graded schools, at the proper and desired standard of excellence.

The evening schools, which were not opened last year because of insufficient funds, were reopened this fall with satisfactory results, a special appropriation for that purpose having been made by the Council.

In order to avoid in the future the conditions existing at some of the schools, where the original lot of land available as a playground has been reduced without the sanction of the School Committee, provision should be made whereby any lot of land purchased by the city for school purposes could not be sold, reduced, enlarged, or otherwise changed without the approval of the School Committee being first obtained. The charter gives the management and control of the schools solely to the School Committee, but is silent as to the authority of the School Committee over the land on which the school houses stand.

The School Committee considers a school yard a very desirable adjunct to the school building and of vital importance to the school children, and it contends that its authority over the land purchased for school purposes should be equal to its control over the buildings as long as the land is used or, in the judgment of the Committee, is required for school purposes. This authority should be given to the School Committee and the charter should be amended accordingly.

In conclusion the School Committee urges that the matters herein referred to are of vital importance and should receive your most earnest consideration.

The above report was presented by a special committee consisting of Mr. Churchill, Mr. Burke and Dr. Peirce and adopted as the annual report of the School Committee Tuesday, December 26, 1905.

FRANK E. PARLIN, Secretary.

Report of the Superintendent

To the School Committee of Quincy:

Herewith I submit my sixth annual report which is the thirty-first in the series of annual reports by the superintendent of public schools and the fifty-sixth of the printed reports of the School Board of Quincy.

Salaries of Teachers

Recently Dr. William T. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education, in an article upon 'The Future of Teachers' Salaries showed that the average earnings of the twenty-nine million wage-earners in the United States in the year 1900 was $551.56, and that only twenty per cent. of the public school teachers in all cities of the United States of eight thousand population or over received less than $500 per annum. In this city the average salary of grade teachers last year was $462.58, or $88.98, which is nearly twenty per cent. less than the average for the wage-earners; here, also over forty per cent. of the teachers received less than $500. When a good teacher is paid less than a good typewriter, saleswoman, clerk or operative in a mill it is not only unfortunate for the teachers but it is even more unfortunate for the schools.

For years Quincy has annually lost from fifteen to twenty per cent. of her teachers, largely on account of the small salaries she pays. The teachers called to other cities are always among the best trained and most efficient of our corps and it is seldom possible to replace them with others equally well trained and efficient. The inevitable tendency is towards a general decrease in efficiency. Considering the salaries paid, our corps is an exceptionally strong one, but it cannot long continue at its present standard unless salaries are increased to keep pace with the increase in living expenses. The maximum salary for grade teachers is $500, the sum of $550 being paid only after fifteen years' service and then by special vote of the Committee. No teacher can live, dress and provide herself with the means of professional improvement as she should on such a salary, to say nothing about laying up something for an emergency or later years.

She might do this in some places but not here because living expenses in Quincy are comparatively high.

During the last ten years there has been, especially in the eastern part of this state, a general and substantial increase in teachers' salaries, averaging for the state over twelve per cent. for male and over fifteen per cent. for female teachers. Within a year the citizens of one town, financially no more able than this city, voted in open town meeting that no teacher in that town should be paid less than five hundred dollars per annum. But in Quincy grade teachers are not paid as well as are the female clerks in other departments of the city. Considering the qualifications required, the severe tax upon their energies and the vital importance of their work, teachers certainly deserve as great consideration and as liberal compensation as any class of public servants. When the remuneration is barely enough to pay living expenses there ceases to be any inducement for persons of ability to fit themselves properly for teaching or for them to enter the profession. The result is that there is a great scarcity of good teachers, especially for the elementary schools, and superintendents find it increasingly difficult each year to find satisfactory candidates to fill the vacancies in their corps.

But the grade teachers are not our only underpaid teachers. The pay of high school assistants and, in fact, of nearly the entire list is low. The average salary both of male and of female teachers is not only below the averages of the state but below those of Norfolk County, and when compared with the averages of the cities of the commonwealth, Quincy is twenty-two per cent. less for male and thirteen per cent. less for female teachers. Even after throwing the six largest cities out of the calculation the averages remain twenty per cent. and twelve per cent. less. The people of this city will not and ought not to be satisfied with inferior schools, but to expect better than average schools on from twelve to twenty per cent. less than average salaries is unreasonable. It may be unpopular to advocate an increase in teachers' salaries but simple justice demands it and the best interests of the schools demand it.

Habitual School Offenders

What to do with the habitual school offenders is another question worthy of your early and most thoughtful consideration. During the last year they have been unusually troublesome. We have had scattered through the schools about twenty boys who have been actively and persistently offensive not only in school but outside, several of them having been called into court to answer to charges of various misdemeanors. Evenings they roam about the city in small bands their course often being traced by a series of offences against property or the public peace. They seem to regard a court record as a mark of honor, something to be proud of. On returning to school after being placed on probation they boast of their experience and play a heroic part among the other boys. They have been habitually indolent, insolent and disobedient, generally profane and indecent, and have been directly or indirectly responsible for most of the breaches of good order in the schools. They have been a constant source of anxiety to their teacher, having required an unreasonable amount of her time and energy, have greatly hindered the progress of their classes and have exerted a demoralizing influence over other pupils. Often their language and conduct in the schoolroom, upon the playground or on the way to and from school, have been vicious and lawless. These are not merely thoughtless or mischievous boys but boys morally obtuse, of depraved tastes and criminal tendencies. Such boys should be eliminated from the regular classes for their own good as well as for the good of the other children, and the regular teacher should be relieved of their presence so she may give her thought and strength to the usual work of the school. Most of these boys are morally abnormal and as such need special instruction and training; all of them are either without any effective parental control or are subject to a demoralizing home influence. If they are to become useful and law-abiding citizens, the work of reformation must be done in the days of their youth. Our obligation does not cease until we have done all we can to teach them self-control and obedience to law, to make them industrious, intelligent and respectable men. To tolerate lawlessness, defiance and moral depravity in school boys is not only to wrong the boys themselves but to injure the community and to threaten the state. When a boy through neglect or evil tendencies chooses a wrong course, adopts a hostile attitude towards good order, his own welfare and the rights of others, defies all authority and control, the time has come for positive and decisive action on the part of some one. Force must back up moral suasion until reason can get a hearing.

There should be a room centrally located, in charge of an exceptionally strong and wise teacher, to which boys of this class should be sent after it has been demonstrated that they are not amenable to the rules of a well ordered school or that their influence upon the other pupils is pernicious. This proposition is not made in a spirit hostile to these unfortunate boys but rather with the desire and the hope of rescuing them from their own bad habits and evil tendencies. They first need to learn to obey and to respect duly constituted authority, then to apply themselves regularly and faithfully to their duties. They require a male teacher and a government which is kindly but at the same time firm and able to exact full and prompt obedience. They need to receive individual instruction and to be held individually responsible for the work assigned. Manual training should be for them a regular exercise. The natural ability or special talent of each boy should be carefully studied and called into legitimate action with the hope that, under the influence of a new and absorbing interest, he may forget the old ways and may enter the path of an honorable ambition. When, in any case, the work of reformation has gone far enough to warrant it, the boy should be returned to the appropriate class in his own district.

In this way we can remove from the schools an intolerable nuisance, greatly improve the conditions for effective work and do much for the unruly element requiring special treatment. The rights of all will thus be secured—the right of the normal child to attend school without being exposed to contaminating influences, the right of the teacher to give her time and strength to the instruction of all her pupils instead of to the control of a few, and the right of the vicious boy to be tamed and taught according to his special needs.

To be sure it will cost a few hundred dollars a year to maintain the proposed room but the relief of the schools will be a sufficient compensation, to say nothing of the inestimable benefit some, at least, of these boys will receive from the isolation and special training. Two things are clear, these boys should not be kept in the regular classes and they should not be turned out upon the street. They should be cared for either by special arrangement here or by being sent to the truant school.

Defective Children

There is another class of children which demands the early and thoughtful consideration of this Board, the children so abnormal or mentally deficient as to require training very different both in kind and in method from that given in the public schools. Some of them who have been regular in attendance for three years or more have not been able to learn even the simplest parts of the primary work. They can neither read nor write and seem as far from the mastery of these arts as when they first entered school. Others after several years have learned to write their names, to copy more or less legibly a few words and to make most of the numerals but can read only the simplest sentences and can do no reckoning with certainty. A few can do a little better, being able to copy from the board either words or figures and to read, write and reckon a very little. These children have been in school from three to seven years, certainly long enough to prove their incapacity for ordinary school work.

Such children are a serious and discouraging tax upon the teacher's time and an unwarranted drag upon the progress of the class. They get little or nothing themselves to compensate for the labor and loss they occasion others even when they are quiet and tractable. But the burden of their presence is largely increased when they develop irascible and disorderly traits as some of them do.

Parents are usually very slow to see defects in their children, are inclined to resent any suggestion that such defects exist and to hold the teacher responsible if they fail to make satisfactory progress in school. Even when aware that their child is too abnormal to profit by his attendance many parents insist upon sending him to school in order that he may be safe and they be relieved of his care. They seem rarely to think of the other children or whether there may not be a better course for their own child. They are so anxious for him to be like other children that they continue to hope he will somehow become like them if taught in the same way. But the public schools can never meet his needs and it is not only unwise but wrong to send him there until the years in which he might be benefited by a different kind of training are past. He would be decidedly better off at home and at play. But this would not fulfill the obligations of the parents and of the community to such a child.

There are institutions and methods of training adapted to the peculiar needs of mentally deficient children and most of those children who enter the public schools could be prepared for partial or entire self-support if they could only have this training in childhood. The state institutions for such children are overcrowded and have long waiting lists so that present help for all our needy ones is not likely to be found in that quarter. These children must continue to be neglected unless the city provides a place for their appropriate training. A teacher prepared for this special work, a room equipped with means for various kinds of simple manual training and a little piece of land for playground and gardens are the agencies required. If these children are to be taught anything it must be the use of their hands. Their mental development can be secured only through manual or physical exercises. They cannot learn from books but they can learn to use their hands and to do many useful things. Is it not about time to take these unfortunate children from the schools where they are getting almost no benefit and are a great hindrance and to place them where they may get the best and only kind of education they are capable of receiving? There are usually in the schools ten or twelve whose mental condition is such as to demand this change.

Reception to Miss Julia E. Underwood

On Friday evening, May 19, occurred in the High School hall one of the most interesting events of the year connected with the public schools. It was a public reception to Miss Julia E. Underwood to celebrate the completion of her fiftieth year of continuous and remarkable service as a teacher in the Coddington school. Arrangements for the reception were in charge of a committee appointed by the Quincy Teachers' Association. The hall was very prettily decorated with apple blossoms and potted palms and plants contributed by Florist Patterson of Wollaston. Miss Underwood was assisted in receiving by Miss Mary E. Dearborn, for nearly thirty years the highly respected Principal of the Coddington school, Superintendent Frank E. Parlin and his predecessors in office, Superintendent Herbert W. Lull of Newport, R. I., and Superintendent George I. Aldrich of Brookline, Mass. The masters of the grammar schools and the teachers of the Coddington served as ushers. Music was furnished by members of the High School orchestra, and refreshments by the Teachers' Association.

The attendance was so large that it was nine o'clock before the literary part of the program was reached. Superintendent Frank E. Parlin, after a few words of welcome to the many friends of Miss Underwood, read a letter of regrets from Edwin W. Marsh, Esq., who was a member of the School Committee of 1855 which first elected Miss Underwood teacher.

Mr. Parlin then called upon the following named persons each of whom responded briefly upon the unique character of the occasion, reminiscences of old school-days, the significance of the "New Departure" in the Quincy schools or the notable record of the honored guest of the evening.

Hon. Charles Francis Adams of Lincoln, formerly a resident of Quincy and for several years a very influential member of the School Committee, Hon. Charles H. Porter, the senior member of the present School Committee, Dr. Henry C. Hallowell, Chairman of the School Committee, Mr. Edward Southworth, Master of the Mather school, Boston, and the oldest living ex-principal of the Coddington school, George I. Aldrich, member of the State Board of Education, who was Superintendent of Schools in Quincy from 1883 to 1892, Herbert W. Lull, Superintendent of the Quincy schools from 1892 to 1900, and His Honor, James Thompson, Mayor of Quincy.

Upon Frank F. Prescott, Editor of The Quincy Daily Ledger, and a former pupil of Miss Underwood devolved the pleasant duty of presenting a purse of two hundred dollars in gold from her old pupils and friends in and out of town.

Thomas B. Pollard, Principal of the Washington school and President of the Quincy Teachers' Association, presented her another purse of gold from the present and former teachers of Quincy.

Miss Mary E. Dearborn, Principal of the Coddington school, responded for Miss Underwood in a very pleasing manner.

Resignation of Teachers

During the last year twenty-three teachers, including three principals, have resigned. While this is not an unusually large number to lose from our corps in a single year, it is exceptional to lose so many principals.

Miss Mary E. Dearborn, who resigned in June to take a well-earned rest and to indulge a long-cherished desire to travel, was the senior and doubtless the best known principal in the city. Her long and remarkable service calls for more than ordinary notice.

Miss Dearborn came to Quincy in 1876, soon after Col. Parker began his famous work here, and was placed at the head of the Coddington school in 1880. She enjoys the distinction of having been the only woman who ever held the position of grammar school principal in this city. It requires a rare combination of qualities to meet successfully all the many difficulties which come to a principal of a large school, to secure the confidence of the community, and to retain for twenty-nine years not only the respect but the high esteem of pupils and parents. That Miss Dearborn possessed in large measure such qualities has been fully demonstrated. During these years she devoted unsparingly her best thought and energy to the welfare of her pupils. Not satisfied with the mere assignment and hearing of lessons she taught her boys and girls a thousand things not laid down in the textbooks, but which, nevertheless, have a most important bearing upon life—personal habits, good manners, patriotism and moral integrity.

Those who have seen her at work with a class agree that she had a remarkable mastery of the art of teaching. Her method of correlating her instruction and of reaching the understanding of her pupils was as unique as it was effective.

Few principals secure such a controlling influence and such a hearty co-operation in their school as Miss Dearborn always did. Her pupils and graduates are her enthusiastic champions. Harmony, loyalty and pride in the good work and in the good name of their school always characterized the Coddington teachers, qualities inspired in no small degree by their veteran and esteemed principal. Vigorous in body, rich in mind, strong in character, masterful in executive power she impressed all who came under her influence and made the Coddington school what it is.

Mr. Charles E. Finch who came to Quincy from Meriden, Conn., in 1895, resigned in June to accept a very responsible position in Rochester, N. Y. He was first elected principal of the Wollaston grammar school but in 1898 the principalship of the Massachusetts Fields school being vacant, he was made supervising principal of the two schools in which capacity he served with good success up to the time of his resignation.

Although social in his habits he never allowed outside interests to dissipate his energies or to distract his attention from his school duties. As a principal he proved himself to be a good organizer and of excellent executive ability. His administration during the ten years of his service generally meet the approval of both parents and the school authorities. The last year was especially successful and Mr. Finch is to be congratulated not only upon his promotion but upon closing his work in Quincy in such a satisfactory manner.

Winthrop N. Crocker came from the superintendency of the Dartmouth-Westport Union to the supervising principalship of the Hancock-Lincoln district in January 1903. Soon after he was also elected principal of the Adams evening school. Last November he resigned to take charge of a large grammar school in the city of Waltham. When Mr. Crocker came to Quincy he was placed in a very responsible and trying position where a man of less ability, tact and good judgment would have failed. He soon proved himself master of the conditions, and, by quiet, persistent but well-directed effort, organized his schools for more effective work. Under his direction they gradually but constantly improved until they ranked among the best in the city. During the three years he was in Quincy Mr. Crocker both by his personal qualities and by his professional ability established an enviable reputation.

Evening Schools

The usual number of evening schools was opened on Monday evening, October 2 and, after forty sessions were closed on Tuesday evening, December 12, 1905. They were in session from seven to nine o'clock on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of each week, except the week of Thanksgiving in which there were but two sessions. There were two elementary schools for the study of the common English branches, one at the Adams, the other at the Willard building, and one evening drawing school for both free-hand and mechanical classes at the Old High school building.

During the first six weeks the attendance was unusually large and regular but as the winter season approached some found stronger attractions elsewhere and after Thanksgiving there was a decided falling off. The attendance on Thursday evening has been somewhat smaller than on either of the other three, due perhaps to religious or social meetings on that evening. Most of the classes made good progress. Many persons come simply to learn to read and write English and, as soon as this end is attained sufficiently to meet the demands of the labor laws, have no further ambition and drop out of the school. There is one serious disadvantage in holding these schools in the grammar school buildings. The seats and desks are not adapted to full grown men and women and when, on account of the large numbers, it becomes necessary to put these persons in the fifth grade rooms, they find themselves physically very uncomfortable before the end of the session.

The Adams school during the first six weeks was in charge of Winthrop N. Crocker as principal but when he resigned to accept a position in Waltham, Charles H. Taylor, who was serving as first assistant in the Willard evening school, was transferred to the principalship of the Adams.

The following named persons were employed as teachers in this school:—Samuel D. Thompson, Elizabeth Hiccock, Elizabeth Garrity, Josephine Kelley, Jennie F. Griffin, Minnie E. Donovan and Ida J. Cameron. The number of sessions was 40, and the total enrolment was 286—251 men and 35 women. The average attendance was 74.7, and the average number of teachers was 5.8.

The Willard school was in charge of Austin W. Greene, principal, assisted by Charles H. Taylor, Frances C. Sullivan, Catherine C. McGovern, Augusta E. Dell, Annie E. Burns and Mary B. Keating.

The number of sessions was 40, and the total enrolment was 188—173 men and 15 women. The average attendance was 59.3 and the average number of teachers was 5.3.

The above statistics do not include those persons who were in attendance but one evening.

The number of curious or disorderly persons who came for a single session was unusually large this year. Some change in the requirements for admission should be made in order to protect the schools against the annoyance and expense due to the presence of such persons. A deposit of fifty cents or a dollar at the time of registration as a guarantee of good faith is required in most cities of this state, the deposit being returned at the end of the term to all who have complied with the prescribed conditions. The establishment of such a rule has always resulted in the improvement not only of the attendance but of the work of the evening schools.

The Evening Drawing school was in charge of Samuel E. Gideon, an instructor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. This was his first season with us but he has proved himself unusually well adapted to the work and an excellent teacher. The Free-hand and Mechanical classes met on alternate evenings. The whole number of sessions was 40. The enrolment in the Free-hand class was 43, in the Mechanical class 18, making a total of 61,—all men. The average attendance was 21.5 in the Free-hand class and 10.2 in the Mechanical class.

Gifts to the Public Schools

It is with appreciation and sincere gratitude that we acknowledge in behalf of teachers and pupils the following very generous and appropriate gifts to the public schools during the last year. Nothing can be more helpful and inspiring to young minds than to be surrounded by works of art and, especially, by the portraits of persons who have been great in worthy achievements or have demonstrated the vitality, strength and beauty of a noble character. Our boys and girls need the silent tuition of these things during their school days.

Mr. Charles E. Goodspeed and Mr. Fred B. Rice gave to each school in the city copies of Marshall's portraits of Lincoln and Grant neatly framed.

The Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library presented to each school a large portrait of Thomas Crane, the generous donor of the beautiful building bearing his name.

The friends of Miss Julia E. Underwood, who secured one of the Herald art collections last summer, handed it over to the School Committee with the request that the pieces be distributed among the schools. This was done according to the suggested plan and expressed wish of their representative, Mr. Frank F. Prescott.

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Frank E. Parlin, Superintendent of Schools :

It gives me pleasure to submit, in accordance with custom, the following report of the Quincy High School for the year ending December 31, 1905.

No radical changes have been made during the year in the organization and administration of the school. Teachers and pupils have tried to maintain the highest grade of scholarship and efficiency possible under existing conditions, and to make up for losses due to shortened sessions, the use of corridors and laboratories for recitation purposes, and the restriction of more than one hundred and twenty-five pupils to an afternoon session of three hours. And yet, in spite of all that the teachers could do, the quality of work has been impaired and the quantity reduced. Considering the lack of accommodations and the unfavorable conditions for handling so large a school, the work has been creditable.

The number of pupils continues to increase rapidly, although the statement is often heard that the period of growth is past. A comparison of the average daily attendance for this month with that of a year ago shows an increase of forty-nine pupils. If satisfactory accommodations had been provided in September, this number would doubtless have been somewhat larger, for many strongly object to the afternoon session and to the old building.

The average daily attendance continues high. For the year it is ninety-five per cent. This is due in a large measure to the continued use of the regulation, introduced two years ago, which requires work lost by absence from recitation to be made up in writing within a limited time. The majority of the pupils prize their study periods so highly that they are unwilling to use them for making up work except in cases of necessary absence.

The quality of the work of many pupils would be much better, if carefully planned hours for regular home study were kept. In some homes, no study is required outside of school hours. Sometimes this neglect is excusable, where the home needs financial or other aid; more often, however, it is due to the fact that parents fail to realize the full meaning of marks given on report cards and do not enforce home study until it is too late to earn promotion.

An excellent school spirit has prevailed. Teachers and pupils have worked together to offset as much as possible the lack of proper facilities for handling so many pupils. Two of the reasons why it has not been necessary for this school to consider the evils of football are the desire of the pupils to keep the name of the school free from disgrace, and their unwillingness to countenance unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of their representatives.

Frequent conferences of the teachers of the English department have been held for the purpose of discussing the subject and of determining how to secure the best results. Experimental outlines in grammar, rhetoric and composition have been made and lists of books for reading and study prepared. These are being thoroughly tested, the progress of the pupils carefully watched, and such changes made as experience seems to dictate.

Pupils cannot now secure all the advantages to be derived from broad courses in drawing. In a city where so many people are engaged in pursuits which require trained hands as well as trained minds, manual expression should receive much greater attention. At present the elementary schools demand so much of the time of the supervisor that the High School can have only ten periods a week for the seven hundred pupils enrolled. This means that about two hundred pupils can receive only one period of work each week. To keep the number small enough for the supervisor to handle in so little time many restrictions are placed upon those who elect the courses. Pupils and parents are asking for greater opportunities to learn drawing. This request can best be met by introducing courses which require full time, demand outside preparation, and count towards the number of points for graduation the same as courses in other subjects. This would not require an additional teacher, but an assistant equipped and trained for the work. As the growth of the school demands more assistants, it would be wise to include such a teacher in the number. Even if this is done, it would be wise to continue to offer special opportunities for those who do not wish to take full courses.

The movable desks and chairs are a source of disorder which can easily be avoided in the addition. Where they are used, it is difficult to have an orderly room, because the least push disturbs the alignment of seats and desks and gives the appearance of disorder even where, as far as the pupils are concerned, there is none. Some form of fixed adjustable desks ought to be provided so that pupils can assume positions at study which will not injure their health nor counteract whatever benefits they may receive from physical training. This change would not necessitate new furnishings for the whole building, but simply the purchase of enough adjustable seats to be used with the present ones to furnish all rooms with desks adapted to the pupils.

During the summer vacation all the furniture ought to be repaired and varnished; for nothing of this nature has been done since its purchase and it is badly worn and scratched. Two causes have brought about this condition; the regular wear of the classroom and the extra wear that comes from placing the desks one on top of the other whenever the hall is used for other than regular school purposes.

When the addition is completed, all the school grounds should be graded. For many years the unsightly condition of the land at the rear of the building has annoyed the neighbors and exerted an unfavorable influence upon the pupils. How environment influences the character can be easily learned from a comparative study of the pupils of the old and new buildings. There is room at the south of the building for an excellent playground or school garden, and these uses should be considered in grading.

The present bookcases are very far from satisfactory. The shelves are not deep enough for large books and the large sliding doors have always been a cause of annoyance and a source of expense. Small swinging doors arranged in pairs would make the cases more valuable and serviceable. Attention should be given to the cases to be built in the addition to see that they are free from the defects that have rendered those in the present building of so little use.

The school is greatly in need of a modern system of clocks and telephones. At present, the individual clocks do not keep correct time and all signals are given by bells rung by separate push buttons. This system divides the attention of the teachers, prevents the prompt movement of classes, and wastes valuable time for study and recitation. Where schools are equipped with secondary clocks and bells controlled by an automatic program and master clock, teachers are not obliged to watch for the time to close periods; teachers and pupils are relieved of the responsibility of giving the signals; and pupils are more attentive to school work because they gain an appreciation of intervals of time, form habits of working for periods of definite length and move promptly at regular signals.

There should also be installed some system of communication between office and classrooms other than speaking-tubes. These are unsatisfactory because they are often placed in positions awkward for use and because the teacher is obliged to speak so loudly that the pupils hear what is said and are disturbed. The modern method is a system of desk telephones which connects the various rooms with the office and places the head master in instant communication with the whole building at all times. Its value is apparent when one considers how often it is necessary to send messages throughout the building, to call pupils to the office, or to confer with teachers or janitor on matters needing immediate attention.

The school has suffered much from frequent changes of teachers. During the year more than one-third of the teachers have resigned to accept more lucrative positions. In some cases where courses extend through more than one year, the loss to the pupils has been very great. When the city has secured scholarly, tactful, sympathetic men and women of high moral ideas, who are skillful in handling pupils and in giving instruction, some effort should be made to retain their services, because their going inflicts a great loss upon the school and indirectly upon the community. This applies especially to the high school which deals with youth at the critical age when great physical changes are taking place and when ambitions and passions are arising that may make or mar the future welfare of the city.

Several works of art have been presented to the school during the year by its friends. Through the courtesy of the Quincy Daily Ledger the school received a beautiful reproduction of the statue of Venus Genetrix. Clark G. Boynton, Horace T. Jenkins and Avarad C. Sproul of the class of 1905 published the annual number of the Golden Rod and raised sufficient money to purchase two excellent carbon reproductions of Sir Galahad and Saint Barbara framed in oak. These have been placed in the study hall. The class of 1905, following the custom of its predecessors, appropriated a generous sum of money to be used in the purchase of works of art to decorate one of the rooms in the addition.

The school again received the income of the Rock Island Fund. It was used for the purchase of reference books. The library in the addition will make it possible to bring together all the books which have been purchased with the proceeds of this fund and place them where they can be used to better advantage.

It is needless to say that teachers and pupils are anticipating with great pleasure the completion of the addition which provides all teachers with well-equipped rooms, all pupils with equal opportunities for advancement, and enlarged accommodations to meet the growing demands made upon the school.

The members of the Class of 1905 are distributed as follows:

Report of Truant Officer

To Mr. Frank E. Parlin, Superintendent of Schools.

I herewith submit my eighth annual report as Truant Officer.

The past year has been a busy one in this department, the very large increase in cases investigated and truanancies determined being shown by the table annexed.

The city is growing fast and a decided change is taking place in our population. This brings into our midst a class of people with large families desirous, it would seem in many instances, to test at once the stringency of our school laws. Non-attendance is due, in most part, to the sheer neglect of the parents, and truancy to the influence of the young street loafer and the cigarette; the latter has become a greater danger than the saloon, and the people should demand that the law forbidding the sale of cigarettes to minors should be rigidly enforced.

The laws regulating the employment of minors have been carefully watched. There seems to be a great desire on the part of some parents to put their children to work at an early age, and it requires the greatest vigilance to hold these parents down to the lawful age of their children. I have kept a watchful eye on the manufacturing plants of the city and have ever found the employer willing to comply with the law.

No cases of truancy have been called to the attention of the court until every effort has been made by both Principal and Truant Officer to correct the same. I feel it my duty to again call attention to the apparent neglect of the enforcement of the curfew law, and would recommend that the same be put under the immediate charge of the Truant Officer.

I feel that the work and scope of this department of our public schools is fully appreciated by the Superintendent and Principals, and I desire at this time to express my appreciation of the many courtesies extended the past year.

The following tables show in detail my work for the year.
